SBA official to address Expo '73 breakfast meet

A businessmen's breakfast and seminar will be held June 9th as part of Indiana Black Expo '73, it was announced this week.

"Blacks and other minorities attempting to profit through the American economic system experience extreme difficulties because of the lack of information readily available to them," Huerta Tribble, chairman of the program, stated in announcing the new Expo program. "Many opportunities are open to minorities in the business area. However, minorities are not aware of these opportunities. We hope that Indiana Black Expo, through the presentation of this breakfast meeting, can be helpful in channeling critically needed information to minority businessmen."

Arthur McZier, assistant administrator of the Small Business Administration, will deliver the keynote address during a seminar following the breakfast which will be held starting at 8:00 A.M. June 9th

'We Shall Overcome,' Scenicview Country Club members declare

Scenicview Country Club's doors opened, the members walked in, and ever since, they have been faced with seemingly a thousand obstacles. Nevertheless, the members are "Keeping the Faith," and sincerely believe, "We Shall Overcome."

There have been several recent news accounts relating to the future of Scenicview Country Club. To help clarify the situation, and to help provide a proper perspective, the board of directors of Scenicview wishes to state the following:

1. Scenicview Country Club is located at 6601 Grandview Drive, on approximately 70 acres of beautiful ground. The facility consists of a main club house, field house, olympic regulation outdoor swimming pool, seven tennis courts, and a 9-hole executive golf course.
2. The Club is thought of in the Indianapolis community as "the Black Country Club"; however, the fact is that a significant percentage of its membership is non-Black, and it is unique in the country in this respect.
3. An analysis of the operations reveals that more than 90% of its members are employed during the day—which is one reason for this club not having daily income like other similar organizations. However, it is unexcelled in its provision of attractive meeting rooms and private dining areas for private parties or club groups, many of whom currently use its resources.

4. During the period of operation of the club under Scenicview Country Club, Inc. which took over operation of the club in November of 1971, in excess of 700 members have been enrolled. This is significantly different from the original enrollment of 300 persons.

5. Many members, unfortunately have never been into

Former Recorder staffer receives honorary degree

A former staff reporter for The Indianapolis Recorder returned to the city Sunday to receive a doctor of letters degree from Indiana Central College.

William Raspberry, who worked with photography reporting and some editorial writing while at The Recorder from 1956 to 1960 is now a columnist for the Washington Post. Raspberry is a 1958 graduate of Indiana Central and told was the commencement speaker for Indiana Central's graduation class of 1973.

He told the audience, "The most important thing journalism has done for me is to keep me out of the ministry. Thy kingdom come."

"I like it because it suggests some underlying—if not always articulated—rationale for what we try to do with our lives," he said.

"Thy kingdom come... on earth," he continued. "That says it a little better. It says for our work to be effective for our lives to make sense there must be some vision of what ought to be."

Turning his attention to the graduates, "Now I'm going to ask you to forget something you've spent the last four years learning," he said. "You've had to learn those things, for without the openmindedness that a sense of balance implies. 'For without the open mind-

72 entrants to compete for title of 'Miss Black Expo'

Seventy-two young black women and teenagers from eight Indiana cities will participate in the "Miss Indiana Black Expo" beauty pageant to be held Sunday afternoon, June 3rd, in the Indiana Convention-Exposition Center in downtown Indianapolis.

The pageant, designed to demonstrate the beauty of black women and to promote a higher image of black womanhood, will include talent performances by the finalists in both the Senior and Junior Divisions. The "Mark IV", a popular national recording group, will offer entertainment along with Indianapolis TV and night club personalities.

Twelve hundred seats are available to the public and tickets may be purchased through the Indiana Black Expo office at 231 W. 21st Street. Joan Wake, chairman of the pageant, announced that the "Miss Indiana Black Expo" pageant of 1973 will be the most fabulous pageant ever presented by black people in our state. I am confident that all persons who attend the pageant will be thoroughly entertained and will leave with a feeling of immense pride in the beauty, dignity, and talent possessed by all the finalists in the contest.

"Miss Indiana Black Expo '73" will receive a cash prize of $1,000 with two runners-up receiving $500 and $250. "Junior Miss Indiana Black Expo" will receive $250 in cash. Mrs. Wake said that thousands of dollars in merchandise prizes, much of this contributed by local merchants, will be given to the finalists.

The young women will come to Indianapolis Saturday morning.

African Liberation rally at Douglas Park Saturday

The state chairman for the African Liberation Support Committee (ALSC) said this week that the purpose of the massive rally for African Liberation in Douglas Park, May 26 is to "show our solidarity with our brothers and sisters on the African Continent who are engaged in armed struggle."

"The rally which gets underway at 1 p.m. will also protest President Nixon's budget cuts."

Endesha Alimayu, state chairman of ALSC said.

The major points are:

1. Rising unemployment among black people
2. Rising cost of living, especially food
3. Political repression and police brutality

Black labor organization fights discrimination

The newly organized National BLACK United Auto Workers Caucus held its first banquet and rally at Pearl's Ballroom, 115 McLean Pl., May 20, the Rev. William S. Byrdson announced.

The union caucus was organized March 20, with the Rev. Byrdson as its founder and president.

The Rev. Byrdson founded the organization with employees of Chevrolet Commercial Body plant who are members of the UAW local 23, AFL-CIO, because they have been totally excluded in recent years from leadership positions in the local.

"Even the management realizes the need for adequate black participation in union affairs," The Rev. Byrdson said. "We want to do more and be active at all times... not just at election time."

According to the Rev. Byrdson the organization has some 300 members, wants to construct a credit union, furnish information to other locals, and is not a separatist organization.

The Rev. Byrdson stressed that the organization will labor vigorously and sincerely to bring justice for blacks and other minorities. He said that the

Dillin asked to order desegregation plans

Federal Judge S. Hugh Dillin was asked by the United States Department of Justice to order a final desegregation plan for September 1 for Indianapolis Public Schools. It was announced last week.

The ruling will be part of a trial on metropolitan desegregation starting June 11. The judge limited the trial to whether the suburban school system should be included in the desegregation of the Indianapolis Public Schools.

In August 1971 Dillin ruled the Indianapolis schools were segregated by school officials after it was outlawed by the U.S. Supreme Court in a landmark ruling in 1954.

At Cold Spring School there is 53 per cent black enrollment which Judge Dillin reacted to by rejection the school board's assignment plans and ordered it to redraw them. Black enrollment under Dillin's ruling is limited to 40 per cent of the total.

The government said 53 per cent black enrollment would not make Forest M. a nor Middle School racially identifiable. Attorneys for two black children named 10 suburban school systems within Marion County, nine outside the county. The State of Indiana, the City of Indianapolis and the Indianapolis Housing Authority as defendants for the trial.

The Justice Department said several pupil reassignments proposed this month were evidently made without relation to

Shriners from 5 states expected here for 'Gala Day' observance

More than 5,000 Black Shriners from Indiana and adjoining states are expected to attend the Region Four, 'Gala Day' celebration here in Indianapolis, June 7 through 10.

'Gala Day', as the name implies, is a festive occasion where members of the Ancient Egyptian Arabic Order Nobles of the Mystic Shrine convene for the purpose of rededicating themselves to the principles of Shrinism and celebrate the event with several days of wholesome revelry.

Previously, "Gala Day was promoted and observed on a state-wide basis. Effective this year, The Imperial Potentate, John W. Edgell of Dix Hills, N.Y. has directed that a regional concept be adopted and, as the result, Indiana, Michigan, Ohio, Kentucky and Illinois comprise Region Four, and will sponsor and celebrate "Gala Day" jointly. Also the Daughters of Isis will participate as co-sponsors of the project.

The Atkinson Hotel will serve as headquarters. The three-day program includes, eliminations for the talent and scholarship

JOHN H. ROBINSON

Mr. John H. Robinson, 242 E. 12th, died April 27 in Methodist Hospital. Services were held May 2 at Jacobs Brothers Westside Chapel, with burial in New Crown Cemetery.

A native of Brighton, Tenn., Mr. Robinson had lived here since 1922 and was a construction worker at Local 120 before retiring due to illness.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Stella Mae Robinson, a sister, Mrs. Mamie Boykin, and a brother, Samuel Robinson, both of Brighton.

ARNEATTA B. LOVINGS

Mrs. Arneatta B. Lovings, 72, 2218 N. Illinois, died May 17 in a local nursing home. Services were held May 21 in Stuart Mortuary, with burial in Crown Hill Cemetery.

A native of Terre Haute, Mrs. Lovings lived in Detroit for 29 years before moving to Indianapolis a year ago. She was a messenger for Western Union at Detroit 29 years, retiring in 1966. She was a member of the Elk Lodge and Order of Eastern Star, both in Detroit.

AWARDED MONTGOMERY SCHOLARSHIP: Jerry Thomas Hubbard (right), a senior at Arsenal Technical High School, was awarded the $4,000 Wes Montgomery Memorial Scholarship Tuesday. The scholarship is presented annually by Merchants Bank of Indianapolis. Making the presentation is Donald W. Tanselle, bank president. Hubbard is the fifth recipient of the scholarship. He ranks 57th in a class of 699 and has achieved a "B" average while lettering on Tech's football team. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hubbard, 2244 Columbia, young Hubbard plans to attend Indiana University. The presentation took place during the annual Supreme Day ceremonies held at Tech.

D.D. Garriot is named 'Indiana Small Business man of the Year'

The Indiana District of the U.S. Small Business Administration today named the "Indiana Small Businessman of the Year." He was Debra D. Garriot, owner and operator of Little Peoples Prep Day School, 5935 East 27th Street, Indianapolis, Indiana.

The announcement and presentation was made at an all-day meeting of the Indiana Advisory Council at Lake Monroe near Bloomington. The award certificate was presented to Mr. Garriot by Paul Dinkins, President of the Indiana Bankers Association.

The "Small Businessman of the Year" award is given by SBA each year to the small operator who in the opinion of the State Advisory Council, most nearly typifies an example of building a successful business from scratch with SBA assistance. Last year the award was given for the first time in Indiana to a woman, Mrs. Ruth Quesser, owner of Ruth's Sandwich Shoppe in Indianapolis.

In addition to his outstanding business accomplishments, Mr. Garriot has been active in the Boy Scouts of America, United F and 38th Street Christian Church and the Masonic Lodge.

The Advisory Council meeting was presided over by Mike DeFabis, President of Safeway Quality Foods, who is Chairman of the group.

Also speaking on the accomplishments of the Small Businessman of the Year was William F. Miller, Indiana Director of SBA.

You and the Law

Legal Services Organization of Indianapolis

I purchased a television set on credit from Anthony T.V. The next week I received word that I was to make payments to ABL Finance Company. Can the note be sold to ABL without my permission?

YES. Your contract can be sold to a finance company and at the time of the sale the T.V. store doesn't have to tell you it will do this.

HOWEVER, the finance company must let you know in writing that it has bought the note and that you are to make future payments to them.

ALSO, the letter to you must let you know that you have 60 days in which to write the finance company to tell them of any complaints you have about the merchandise you bought.

If you do write within 60 days and tell the finance company that the television set doesn't work well and that you are dissatisfied, then the finance company is responsible for the problem and cannot say that you have to take up the problem with the T.V. store.

On the other hand, if you don't write and tell the finance company that you are not satisfied, then the finance company can tell you: "That's not our problem. Give us the money and you'll have to take it up with Anthony T.V."

So be sure to let the finance company know in writing of any problems you are having within 60 days of their letter to you, and keep a copy of your correspondence.

Watch for false revenue agents, warns local IRS

Taxpayers here should watch out for unscrupulous individuals posing as IRS employees to extort money on the pretense of satisfying unpaid taxes. James E. Daly, District Director of Internal Revenue for Indiana, has cautioned.

Daly said all bona-fide employees of the Internal Revenue Service who contact the public carry distinctive identification. Ask to see these credentials if the person who claims to be an IRS employee approaches you and does not identify himself.

If you still have doubts after seeing the credentials, contact the nearest IRS office Daly said.

Central Lodge No. 1 pledges support to Wheeler Boys Club

Central Lodge No. 1, F.&A.M., known as "The Action Lodge," recently presented a check to the Wheeler Boys Club for sponsorship of one of their baseball teams.

At the beginning of the year Central Lodge pledged its support to the various activities of the community, including the Wheeler club. The lodge has worked in close harmony with Ralph Dowe, club director.

Presenting the check to Dowe were Junior Warden George Kendrick Oscar Smith, co-chairman of public relations and civic affairs committee; Worshipful Master Clinton Burke, and Senior Warden Forrest Bostic.

The lodge's next community affair will be their fourth skating party to be held at Rollerland Skating Rink on May 31 from 6:30 until 10 p.m.

The purpose of these parties are to provide wholesome activities for the youths and to raise funds for the disbursement of charity in the community.

Give of yourself and help a child-become a Juvenile Court volunteer

SATURDAY, MAY 26, 1973

Fourteen-year-old Jerry is a loner and hates himself for it. He says he feels "picked on" but never "picked out" to share some fun, to be a friend. According to his probation officer, he feels frustrated and unhappy with himself--worthless.

Maybe you can help. As a Juvenile Court Volunteer, you can TRY.

In a home with several sibings and other relatives Jerry feels he is getting lost in the shuffle.

"Jerry has a marked lack of friends and interests," reports the probation officer. "Typically, he doesn't have friends or playmates. When a relationship does develop, it is usually short lived."

But Jerry is not lost or ignores when he is unruly at home or when he breaks into a house and takes a few things. He certainly doesn't find friendship or understanding in these times but at least he is the center of attention at home or at the police station or at Court. He is SOMEBODY.

Jerry has limited academic ability and is failing most of his subjects in eighth grade. Though the cause of much turmoil at home and among his schoolmates, the probation officer describes him as "withdrawn, depressed and using withdrawal as a means for escape."

Right now, Jerry is a loser. But the probation officer is seeking a man to be on Jerry's "team." A volunteer might soon find Jerry has an interest in sports, even though he often passes up such activity because he's uneasy with schoolmates who are better players. Jerry also likes his Saturday job and just might enjoy talking about it -- some of the funny things that happen, some of the problems--with someone he can trust who's really listening to what he's saying.

As a Juvenile Court Volunteer you could be assigned to Jerry or a child with similar problems, to share a chunk of life and help him function within his own abilities and environment.

A volunteer is expected to spend about four hours a week with "his" child for about nine months. He or she is expected to be dependable and committed to helping the child's young friends, a commitment that can give much inner satisfaction.

Before a volunteer is assigned to a probationer, he is required to have a personal interview with the volunteer director and attend an orientation course of three sessions (the next one is at 7:30 p.m. June 4, 6 and 8). At orientation he becomes familiar with the role and structure of the Court, the children who appear there and some basics for building a relationship with one of the children.

To give of yourself to help a child, please write to: Volunteer Director, Marion County Juvenile Court, 2451 N. Keystone, Indianapolis 46218. Or call 925-5170 or 924-4841.

HUD grant to train students in planning, urban management

The Metropolitan Development Department has received a $55,000 second-year comprehensive planning assistance grant from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) to provide training for professional work in planning and urban management. Student participants will be selected from a minority or poverty background.

In announcing the grant, Michael A. Carroll, director of the Metropolitan Development Department, said the program is to be administered jointly by the Division of Planning and Zoning, Metropolitan Development Department, and the I.U.P.U.I. Metropolitan Studies Department. Total cost of the work-study program is $83,000. Local contributions will total $28,000 of the amount.

According to Carroll, the purpose of the program is to provide an opportunity for students of disadvantaged backgrounds to get academic and practical training in the planning and management of urban problems, and to provide public and private agencies with additional employees well-trained in coping with urban problems. The second-year program will begin July 9th and run for one year.

Ten students will be chosen to serve in the program by a committee of four individuals who are active in local urban affairs. Priority will be given to graduate students to participate in the work-study program. Interested students must be enrolled at I.U.P.U.I. in the Metropolitan Studies Department.

Study Element Advisor for the program at I.U.P.U.I. is John T. Leili, director of the Office of Metropolitan Studies, I.U.P.U.I.

The bill would create a National Voter Registration Administration to send postcard size forms to every address in the U.S.

Alcoholism: Battle of the Bottle

Janet Langhart, host of "Indy Today", talks with a member of Alcoholics Anonymous--and his family--about the ways in which families can combat this disease.

Tuesday, 9:30 PM

8 WISH TV

Recently, Standard Oil started allocating gasoline and other petroleum products. By allocating, we mean assigning limits to the amount of products we will supply to each of our dealers, jobbers and agents based on their past usage. This decision to allocate came reluctantly after hard, careful study. It seems to us to be the best alternative to assure orderly and fair distribution of our available supply. We think the American public has the right to know the facts behind this decision.

Primarily, the situation is this: demand has outstripped our country's crude oil supply. (Even though Standard Oil refineries are running well ahead of last year. And at practical maximum with available crude.)

This situation was caused by an unusually heavy demand for gasoline early this year, preventing the oil industry from building the inventories that will be needed in the summer months. (The nationwide demand for gasoline this summer is expected to increase by 7% over last year. With demand for Standard products likely to be even higher.)

What's more, domestic crude supplies are short. And growing shorter. And foreign crude availability isn't up to the level this country needs right now.

And so we reasoned that if we started right now to distribute our supply fairly and equitably, we could maintain a steady balanced supply. And avoid any long term widespread runout situations.

While we are coping with the shortage, we want to assure you we are doing all we can to get gasoline to you.

We're exploring for oil the world over. Increasing our pipeline and refining capabilities. Developing new processes that will increase our yield. And importing more foreign crude than ever before -- as expensive as it is.

With our allocation procedure and our continuing drive to produce more product we think the first steps toward easing the current situation have been taken.

But we can't do it all alone. We need everyone's help. Industry's. Government's. Yours.

Yours, by conserving gasoline. In fact, if every American used one less gallon every week, there'd be no shortage.

So, keep your car tuned and serviced. (It can increase your gasoline mileage up to 10%.) Combine trips. Form car pools.

And, above all, slow down. If you drive at 50 miles per hour instead of 60, you can save about one gallon in ten.

Does Standard Oil really have to allocate gasoline?

Yes, and all of us may have to get by with a little less for a while, so there'll be enough to go around.

WILLA MAE DISHMON

BRENDA MCNEIL

Tuesday, May 29, 1973, will be a date to long remember for some lucky Indianapolis teenager. For it is on that night that "Miss Black Indianapolis" and "Miss Black Teenager" will be crowned in the luxurious ballroom of the downtown Hilton Hotel.

And it will only be the beginning for the lucky young ladies. Miss Black Indianapolis will become eligible for the Miss Black Indiana Pageant scheduled here for July 1. Miss Black Teenager will represent Indianapolis in the national Miss Black Teenager America Pageant scheduled for later this year in New York.

Although the list is yet incomplete, here some of the contestants for the Miss Black Indianapolis pageant:

LINDA K. ERVIN-17 years of age and a recent graduate of Arsenal Technical High School, she is a member of Philip Temple C.M.E. Church where she sings in the Youth Choir. Her hobbies are public speaking, writing, decorating and reading.

CAROL RHIM-17 years of age, she is a senior at Arlington High School and is planning to attend Central Business College and is a member of Free Will Baptist Church. Her hobbies are dancing and writing.

WILLA MAE DISHMON-17 years of age, this talented young lady is a senior at Shortridge High School. She hopes to pursue a career in the medical field. Her hobby is writing poetry (she is an inspirational poet). She is a member of Bethesda Apostolic Church, Anderson.

BARBARA MCNEIL-18 years of age Miss McNeil is a freshman at IUPUI majoring in music. She is a member of Barnes United Methodist Church. Her hobbies are music, sewing, painting and dancing. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth McNeil, 1501 W. 26th.

ELIZABETH VENEY- She is 18 and a senior at Arsenal Technical High School, a member of Jones Tabernacle Church, she likes dancing, skating and all outdoor sports. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs.

George Veney, 2926 Brouse.

DEBRA MARIE DAVIS-This lovely lady is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Davis, 3519 Winthrop. She is a January graduate of Shortridge and has been working for Teachers Corps, IUPUI Education Building. She plans to attend Indiana State in September and major in special education. She loves singing and was a member of numerous student organizations at Shortridge.

Also participating in the Miss Indianapolis pageant will be Misses Cynthia Lance, 1647 Bellefontaine; Debra Braxton, 3756 Hawthorne; Gayla Henderson, 2222 W. 66th; Gina Beverly, 2341 Mayfair Drive; El-sandra Shirley, 2420 N. New Jersey; and Meridith Buckner, 1220 W. 20th.

Among those participating in the teenage pageant are:

ADRIENNE WOODS-14-years-old 7th grade student at school No. 9 where she is vice-president of the Student Council. She attends Christ Temple Apostolic Church and her hobbies are playing violin, acting and modeling. She is a member of the Brownettes. Her ambition is to become a professional model.

LYNDA A. WHITEFIELD-14 years of age, she is an honor student in the 8th grade at School No. 64. Her hobbies are singing, dancing, swimming, roller skating sewing and arts and crafts. She is making her own gown for the pageant.

Eastside news

(By Clema V. Rogers)

The "Entre Nous Social and Savings Club" will hold their next meeting in the home of Mrs. Lillian Sheraton, 2615 Carrollton, on June 1. Plans are in the making for a summer outing in the late summer. Mrs. Beatrice Fox is president.

The Daughters of Isis ladies auxiliary to the Persian Temple No. 46, held their Thanksgiving services Sunday May 20, in the Masonic Temple, 653 N. West. The service was well attended by the Nobles and Daughters.

Rev. Howard Weaver brought the message and the cantors and chorists rendered the music. After the program, all enjoyed the traditional Thanksgiving feast. Noble Odell Gray is illustrious Potentate and Daughter Pearl Mayes is illustrious Commandress.

Mrs. Lucie Love and Mrs. Sadie Hardman, both civic and Christian workers for the east-side of the city, attended a meeting of the National Council of Negro Women, whose goal is to form a coalition of four-million black women across the nation.

The extensive program includes many facets which affect black women over the nation. Statistics from the 1970 census of Indiana show that this state ranks almost at the bottom of the nation in equal job opportunities and equal salary for black women in comparison to the white, even among domestic workers.

Rights director addresses F.A.C.

The meeting last Monday of the Federation of Associated Clubs, Inc., will be recorded as being so meaningful that it will long be remembered by those present.

The honored guest was Mrs. L. Beatrice Holland, director of the State Civil Rights Commission.

Her talk electrified the entire audience. One would describe her as a dedicated, forceful, Christian lady. She had words at her command that were very informative, penetrating and thought provoking. Her gallant stand for civil rights has gained her great repute.

The evening's program was sponsored by the Outstanding Progressive Community and Civic Club, of which Mr. Chester Little is president. Much data was given in regard to the club by Mrs. Bernice Fleming.

Mr. Little was the master of ceremonies and his wife was the charming mistress of ceremonies.

Noted personality Mrs. Bea Moten presented an instructor and student of fencing from her school. They gave a demonstration which was interesting and unique.

Mr. Peter Overton did justice to the two great songs which he rendered. The Rev. McCance gave the invocation. After ad-

The program is being outlined to help remedy this situation. Among N.C.N.W.'s programs include child development, food for all, a center for career advancement operation, Sisters United, Turn Key Three (a home ownership opportunities for low income families) recruiting for members will be by direct membership and through affiliate bodies. # Pictorial highlights of 39th Great Lakes Regional Conference of Zeta Phi Beta Sorority

A GROUP OF AMICI (Friends), an auxiliary of Zeta Phi Beta Sorority, met here during the 39th annual Regional Conference of the Great Lakes Region of Zeta Phi Beta Sorority. The organization is composed of "grass roots" women who enjoy working in their communities. The 25-year-old organization has eight chapters in the Great Lakes area in the cities of Detroit, Saginaw, Flint,

CERTIFICATES FOR WORK in establishing chapters of Zeta Phi Beta Sorority were presented to (from left) Sorors Effie B. Burford, regional director; Ida Armour, sponsor of Delta Epsilon, Indiana University; Mary Stewart, sponsor, Gamma Epsilon, Ohio University; Marie Clifton, associate director Michigan, Tau Delta, University of Western Kentucky; and Doro thy Brown, accepting for Soror Ann Pendergast, sponsor of Phi Delta, Bradley University. Soror Gloria Ellis (not pictured) received a certificate for the Wilberforce University chapter. A total of 18 new chapters have been organized recently in the Great Lakes Region of Zeta Phi Beta Sorority, Inc. (Recorder photo by Richard Gaither).

SOROR ETHEL McKANE (Left), chairman of the Hospitality Committee, presents a gift to Soror Isabel M. Herson, grand basileus, a gift prior to her excellent message at the regional luncheon. The president denounced plans of the Nixon Administration to cut the budget for poverty programs and challenged sorors and friends to take a "new look at our priorities." The educator, head of the Education Department at Southern University, participated in three workshops: communications, internal structure and "Stork's Nest," a project adopted by the national body. (Recorder photo by Richard Gaither).

Flanner House senior citizens sponsor 'Cleo Blackburn' Day

Dr. Cleo Blackburn, executive director of Flanner House, Inc., was honored May 16 by the senior citizens of Flanner House, who declared the day "Cleo Blackburn Day."

Daughters of Isis to visit nursing home residents

Aspecial treat is in store for residents of the Hillside Nursing home, 3405 Ralston, on Saturday, May 26, at 2 p.m. At that time, the Public Relations and Publicity Committee of Persian Court No. 24, Daughters of Isis, will visit the home to render a short program for residents and present them with gifts.

Many goodies were provided by the senior citizens of Flanner House, who declared the day "Cleo Blackburn Day." The president, Mrs. Helen Board, presented Mr. Blackburn a membership card under national charter No. 02619, and a membership pin. Dr. Blackburn's party consisted of his daughter, sister and business secretary.

Daughter Pearl Mayes is illustrious Commandress of Persian Court No. 24. Daughter Lillian Holt is chairman of the committee, and Daughter Catherine Maxey is co-chairman.

Hints For Homemakers

INEZ KAISER
"You learn something new every day" may sound trite and overused to many, but it never seems to fail that you gain a bit of new knowledge when you least expect it.

LUX LIQUID HELPS THE SALE
While in San Diego recently, I accompanied my son and husband on a house-hunting expedition. It was a very pleasant experience. The home Rickey finally decided upon is just right for him and his new wife, although I was a bit concerned because the kitchen did not include an automatic dishwasher. "Who needs a dishwasher?" asked the woman from whom Rickey purchased the house. "I use LUX LIQUID."

I remarked that I had been a LUX LIQUID user for years and mentioned that as we were examining various homes we noticed a great many bottles of LUX LIQUID on the counters next to the sinks.

"I'm not surprised," she said. "I have tried many liquid detergents, but I was never really satisfied until I switched to LUX LIQUID. Besides doing a fantastic job on my dishes, it is kind to my hands. So much so that even my husband has remarked about how young looking they are."

"A little LUX LIQUID can mean a lot of attention," she said with a wink. "LUX LIQUID is so effective in the dishwasher that I don't have to soak even my grimeiest pots and pans as much as I used to. I have almost as much free time as I would if I owned a dishwasher, and my hands are soft and pretty to boot."

"I'm glad you have given me these hints," said Rickey. "I don't want that diamond I gave Carolyn to be dulled by a harsh detergent. And she won't have an excuse for not washing dishes. That's one thing we agreed on before we decided to marry—that I would not do dishes since my mother made me do so many before I left for college."

WISK FOR "EXTRA TIME"
The owner of the home also attributed her extra time to the fact that she didn't have to spend long hours in the laundry room worrying about getting the stains out of her husband's shirts. She uses WISK.

"All I have to do," she stated, "is rub a little WISK into the soiled areas and pour the extra WISK with the clothes into the washer. The rest takes care of itself!"

"It's especially good for ring around the collar, and believe me, he has them," she stated in her calm Australian voice.

"I use WISK for my entire wash, not just for my husband's shirts. It works perfectly in any water temperature, and it's not damaging to fabrics as many harsh detergents and chlorine bleaches can be."

I told her that I had been a WISK user for years and that I especially liked the way it worked on permanent-press fabrics. You just can't beat WISK for solving those laundry-day problems.

PEPSODENT FOR A BEAUTIFUL SMILE

While Rickey and his dad were looking around and inspecting the house, I chatted with the petite housewife, who had everything sparkling bright.

She was an extremely personable woman, very attractive, and had a beautiful smile. Being basically inquisitive, I managed to lead the conversation around to dental products so that I could discover her secret.

It was no surprise to me to find that she was using a product that I have recommended for years, Pepsodent toothpaste.

She explained that because of the public contact her husband's job required, it was necessary for her to look well at all times. She felt that an attractive smile was most important of all.

"I spent all kinds of money on fads, but I was never satisfied until I switched to Pepsodent. It's always important as a businesswoman's wife for my teeth to be nice and white. Teeth that are their whitest are made so by using Pepsodent," she said, and I agreed.

PEPSODENT has an extremely low abrasion level—lower than any leading brand. This is an important consideration when buying toothpaste. But the main reason I always recommend Pepsodent is that it keeps your teeth sparkling white as possible.

LIFEBUOY FOR RELIABLE PROTECTION

After settling the house transactions, Richard and I took Rickey back to his ship. It was a great thrill for me to meet so many of his Navy buddies that I had been hearing about for so long.

Naturally, they began teasing Rickey, trying to put him on the spot in front of his dad and me. I didn't think they'd ever let him off the hook.

One thing they did tell me that I know was no exaggeration was that Rickey would settle for nothing but the best, and his choice of a house was an indication of that.

They agreed wholeheartedly and went on to say that Rickey had even chided them about using deodorant soap that was not the best. Eventually, Rickey won out, and now they all use LIFEBUOY.

"It has long-lasting deodorant protection that won't let you down—something to remember for those long liberties," laughed one of the boys. Rickey said that he really appreciated LIFEBUOY's effectiveness when his fiancée visited her future home and they went to Tijuana one weekend.

"It's even hotter there than in San Diego," he said, "and you know what that means! LIFEBUOY was really an asset on that trip."

"We can believe that," said his Navy buddies, and Rickey added, "It's the most effective deodorant soap you can buy."

We left Rickey in the midst of his buddies, disparting on the fine qualities of LIFEBUOY (and girls), while bearing the brunt of much teasing and horseplay.

Mrs. Thelma Hawkins recipient of masters

Mrs. Thelma Hawkins, 1648 Martindale, was among the more than 2,600 graduates who received degrees from IUPUI Sunday, May 20, in the Indiana Convention-Exposition Center.

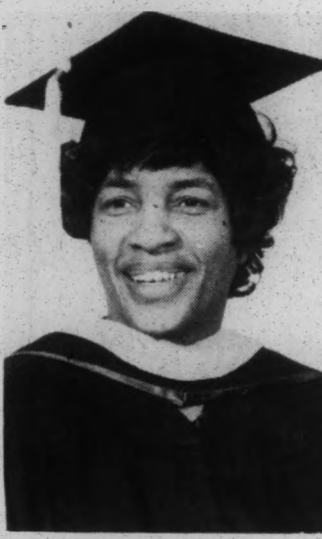

The event marked the second time Mrs. Hawkins had taken part in commencement exercises there. She received the Master of Science degree in elementary education just 18 months after receiving a Bachelor of Science degree.

Her family considers her quite unusual since they know what a busy schedule she has. While completing requirements for the masters she was employed as a teacher in the Indianapolis Public Schools.

She is presently teaching second grade at School No. 3, is a member of Corinthian Baptist Church and its Ladies Alliance Club, a member of the NAACP, Indiana Mental Health Association, Indiana University Alumni Association, United Teaching Profession, and Independent Order of Foresters.

She is the wife of Willie Hawkins, a postal employee, and the mother of Michael Hawkins, an employee of the Ford Motor Company.

After commencement, Mrs. Hawkins was feted with a luncheon in her honor. Hostesses for the affair were her sisters: Mrs. Gladys Young, Mrs. Christine Hawkins, Mrs. Louise Caudle, Mrs. Elberta

Chatting with the F.A.C.

By ELSA JACKSON

Mrs. Beatrice Holland, director of the Indiana Civil Rights Commission, was the main speaker at the regular monthly meeting of the F.A.C. Monday night. She gave a very interesting and masterful address on "Dare to Become."

The audience was held spell bound with her masterful flow of the truth and humor. Her down to earth approach was well enjoyed by all. The Rev. Edward Clarke McCance, director of a new senior citizens' center, offered prayer. Mrs. Bea Moten presented a group of fencing students from her fashion school. The Progressive Community Civic Club of which Mr. Chester Little is president, sponsored the program. A brief history of this club was given by Mrs. Bernice Flemings. A very large and appreciative audience enjoyed the program.

At the next regular monthly meeting of the F.A.C. on Monday, June 11th, pictures of the Caribbean cruise will be shown. The Golden Circle Girls will be the program sponsor, and the general public is invited to attend.

Mrs. Rosie Lewis is doing a very splendid job by serving tasty refreshments at the close of each program and Mrs. Cora Jenkins, the chairman of the program committee, also brings in a surprise cake which is enjoyed by all.

Miss Mary Ragland entertained a number of guests at her beautiful wedding reception in the Aaron Room Saturday night. A very enjoyable evening was spent by all.

On Sunday, May 20, meals for the King Solomon Baptist Church Singers group was served. This is a lovely affiliated group of the F.A.C.

Mrs. Bessie James was pleasantly surprised Sunday with a visit from two of her cousins from Louisville, Ky. Mrs. Susie Hughes and Mrs. Irene Hayes, who were here with the six bus loads to attend the annual Day at Mt. Paran Baptist Church, at which time, their pastor, Rev. T.B. Boyd of the Greater Solemn Baptist Church who was accompanied by his choir and congregation, was a guest speaker.

Due to the fact that Decoration Day this year will be observed on Monday, May 28th, the board of directors will meet on Tuesday, May 29, at 8:00 p.m. All members are urged to be present for important business. Mr. James Wilson is chairman.

Other than the regular musical rehearsals group meetings, a wedding reception will be in the Ryan Room on Saturday, May 26. The New Baptist Church dinner on Sunday, May 27th, and the Dog House Club party on Monday, May 28, are the activities for the week at the FAC Home.

Happy birthday to the following F.A.C. members: Mrs. Priscilla Dean Lewis; May 25 Mrs. Anna Hopkins, 1135 West 18th St.; Miss Harriet O. Brown 3711 Webb, Apt. 110, Detroit, Mich.; Mrs. Sara Allen, 2514 Highland Pl.; Mr. Viridner D. Moore, 3526 Graceland Ave.; Rev. Mozell Sanders, 2621 Central Ave.; May 26, Mrs. Clara K. Hill, 201 W. ## Dr. Paul A. Batties to be honored by quiet celebration on May 26th birthday

DR. PAUL A. BATTIES

Dr. Paul A. Batties, who was hospitalized May 7 for a mild heart attack due to overwork and the extensive demands of his profession, will quietly observe his birthday May 26. He is reported by his team of physicians to be making excellent progress in his recovery.

He and his family have responded cheerfully and gratefully to the innumerable phone calls, cards, flowers, gifts, the visits of ministers and friends in his profession, the countless expressions of intense goodwill and the beautiful intercession of prayer in his behalf on the part of churches throughout the city.

Dr. Batties, who enjoys an extensive practice throughout the city and who is a physician of prominence, is an inordinately modest man of distinction and achievement.

As a product of the local school system, his scholastic record was far above outstanding. Following his graduation from Butler University, he matriculated and completed his medical training at the Medical School of The University of Chicago.

The excellence of his work at the University of Chicago resulted in a Rosenwald Fellowship for advanced work in surgery and medicine. Following internship and residency at Provident Hospital in Chicago, Dr. Batties, the son of the late Dr. and Mrs. Mark D. Batties Sr., returned to his native Indianapolis where he has enjoyed and appreciated an extensive medical practice.

Patients wishing further information regarding the re-scheduling of their appointments are directed to call his office in the building of the Medical Associates on North Capitol Avenue.

Home to enjoy the birthday felicitations of this weekend with Dr. and Mrs. Paul A. Batties are their son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Paul Terry Batties. Dr. Paul Terry Batties is completing his "specialty" in cardiology at the University of Kentucky by Sept. 1, when he and his lovely wife, Pat, who is a registered nurse, plan to return home for permanent residence where Dr. Terry Batties will begin active practice as a specialist in internal medicine and cardiology.

The Batties are members of the University Methodist Church. In the words of Dr. Paul A. Batties himself as others extended best wishes to him:

"Thanks to all of you for your many kindnesses. I'm getting along fine and, of course, following the present essential rest and vacation, will resume professional responsibilities on a non-restricted basis."

By the way...

by Joe Black

As we work our way into the 70's, we find ourselves working into a decade of meaningful change.

And one of the most meaningful changes that has developed, so far, is the increasing enrollment of Black youth in colleges and universities.

A giant step in the right direction for all of us. Because the better educated Blacks become, the better the opportunities for higher paying jobs, economic freedom, and power.

But education should include Black history and culture. And too often today, too many of our young people are bypassing the Black universities, where they can be exposed to this important heritage, to enroll in white institutions.

Are our students' egos leading them to other places, to achieve notoriety through militance? Have our Black colleges become unfashionable?

I sincerely hope not. And now is the time to make sure not.

Now is the time for Black communities to earnestly support our colleges. Enhance them. Aid them where necessary.

There is a solid need for these schools. They can effectively reinforce a Black student's identity. They can also make it possible for more inner-city educated Black youths to enroll in college.

If we are to continue making meaningful changes for Blacks, it's time to change our minds about Black colleges.

Food stamps Two charged to be sold at NMSC

Northwest Indianapolis residents who are participating in the food stamp program no longer have to go downtown to transact their business according to Booker Ford, Northwest Multi-Service Center director.

Beginning June 4 and every third working day of the month thereafter food stamps will be sold at the Northwest Multi-Service Center office at 2871 North Clifton, Ford said.

Ford said that this will be the first opportunity that the 600 participants living in the area will have to acquire stamps at the neighborhood level.

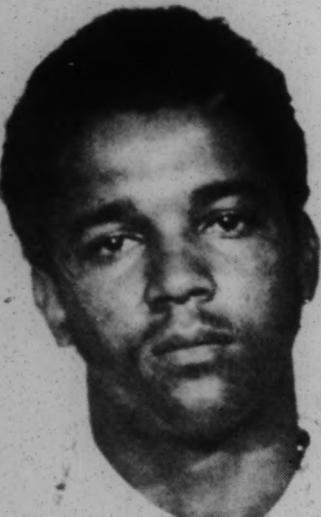

Further details about the program can be obtained from Ford at the center from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday or by calling him at 924-6291.

Ford stressed that the center personnel also provide special services for neighborhood senior citizens and work closely with Iota Zeta Chapter of Zeta Phi Beta Sorority in providing young mothers with clothing, bedding and sometimes food and housing.

Referral services exist between the center and the following agencies: Metropolitan Manpower Commission, the Marion County Welfare Department, Welfare Rights Organization, Legal Services Organization, Planned Parenthood, Martindale Health Clinic and Marion County General Hospital, Ford said.

alert, Patrolman John D. Pride-more, who patrol district includes the area around Keystone Motors, sped to the firm.

"Just as I arrived I spotted the Buick and two youths who matched the descriptions of the wanted men pulling into the lot," Patrolman Pride-more recalled. The older of the youths had purchased the Buick at Keystone Motors eight months ago and had come back to the car lot Tuesday to have a faulty generator repaired.

Both youths had been the object of a city-wide search since May 7, when a woman was attacked and raped in another downtown area parking garage.

In subsequent days, three other women were attacked, two in downtown parking facilities, and the third on the IUPUI campus on the fringe of the downtown area.

At the lineup Tuesday at the juvenile detention facility, each youth participating in the lineup was assigned a number at the direction of Lieut. John Offutt, of the police homicide and robbery branch.

"Each of the victims and Miss Wells picked the numbers that had been assigned to the two suspects," Lieut. Offutt said following the lineup.

Following the lineup, Juvenile Court Judge Harold Fields was asked to waive jurisdiction in the case and allow the suspects to be tried as adults in the Marion County criminal courts.

Judge Fields said later his decision concerning jurisdiction of the suspects may be as long as two weeks in coming.

Pending Judge Fields' decision, both youths will remain in the custody of juvenile authorities.

Lieut. Offutt said the persons believed to have driven the getaway car is being sought and probably will be charged as an accessory to the crime.

One of the suspects had attended classes at Attucks for half-day on Tuesday, while, according to school authorities, the other had not been in school since May 14—the day the third woman was attacked.

6. Scenicview is in a state of uncertainty with regard to continued ownership of its facilities; however, the uncertainty of ownership does not mean the Club itself will not survive.

7. Scenicview is continuing to operate its programs, including golf, swimming, tennis, volleyball, Sauna bath, Travel Club, Ladies Auxiliary, live entertainment on weekends, disc jockey on Fridays, children's activities, Tuesday night Bean Suppers, Ladies night, and many other fun activities.

8. There are MANY DEDICATED MEMBERS WHO ARE TENACIOUSLY HOLDING ON. These persons are alive, well and continuing to PRESS ON. For example, Memorial weekend will be fun time at Scenicview just as it will be for the rest of Indianapolis. The rest of the summer will be well-rounded and bursting with activities. THIS ORGANIZATION IS DETERMINED TO SURVIVE. And it will.

One of the national resources in shortest supply is people who don't mind being just a little insane, the columnist explained. We are entirely too sane which means that we see the irrelevance of nearly everything.

larship, and beauty contest, on June 8.

The winner of the regional competition will receive an all-expense paid trip to The Annual Session of the Shriners Imperial Council, which is being held in Detroit, August 18 thru 25.

On Saturday morning, June 9, the patrol units of the various Shrine Temples in the region will engage in drill competition. The Daughters of Isis, youths, and Drum and Bugle Corps will be featured in exhibition drills. The musical units of the temples and courts will also compete for the coveted prizes and trophies. On Saturday afternoon there will be a colorful downtown parade with all the various units marching to the beat of the Indianapolis Persian Temple Band.

The "Gala Day" celebration will terminate in a ball, Saturday night, June 9, at the Atkinson, with the band and show direct from a Chicago downtown nite spot.

Many of the Imperial Council, elected and appointed officers have indicated that they will attend the Region Four 'Gala Day'.

Sovereign Grand Commander, Frank M. Summers, who heads The United Supreme Council, Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite of Freemasonry, of the Northern Jurisdiction, has recently announced his intention to be present.

The "Gala Day" activities will wind up with the members attending the church of their choice, on Sunday morning, June 10.

It is apparent that the Regional Gala Day idea will prove to be successful and have all the appearance of a Miniature Imperial Council, spokesmen said.

The columnist had to mention Watergate because it was his paper, The Washington Post, that broke the story. He said Watergate is a useful illustration of the right and wrong kinds of single-minded insanity.

The Post along with city reporters Carl Bernstein and Bob Woodward and a nd their editors were virtually alone in its perception that what administration officials dismissed as a third rate burglary was infinitely more important than that.

There is a negative lesson in Watergate, he said. "If there is a n y single t h r e a d running through that national tragedy and disgrace, it is the blind loyalty and devotion of a large number of people to--a man."

businessmen from throughout the state of Indiana are expected to be in attendance at the program.

James Denny, an Indianapolis native who serves as minority business representative for the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, will also participate on the program.

Mr. McZier, who has directed minority enterprise at SBA since 1969, established SBA's "Operation B U S I N E S S MAINSTREAM," which brings all the programs and services of the agency together in a coordinated effort to give maximum thrust to its minority enterprise activities.

Before joining SBA in December 1968, McZier worked with the Department of Commerce, Office of Foreign Direct Investments for eight months.

He was a marketing analyst for two years with Ford Motor Company in Detroit and in New York.

McZier was a sales and marketing expert in domestic and international markets for Seaburg Corporation from 1962 until 1966, establishing distributorships in Africa, Europe, and the Mid-East.

He was born in Atlanta in 1935 and moved with his family to Evanston, Illinois in 1937. He attended Loyola University on an athletic scholarship and majored in business management. He earned his Bachelor of Science and Commerce Degree in 1959. In addition to being an all-star basketball player in 1959, he was also captain of Loyola's basketball team and won the "Most Valuable Player" and "Athlete of the Year" awards.

Police arrest three alleged heroin pushers

Three Indianapolis men were arrested Saturday on various drug charges after police chased one suspect for blocks at speeds up to 60 miles per hour, police reported Saturday.

It all started when a police officer allegedly saw Leonard Taylor give Joe DeJarnet, 2900 block of N. Gladstone a shiny package while DeJarnet paid Taylor cash money according to police.

Earlier the officers had received a tip that Taylor, 40, 2600 block of Keystone, was selling narcotics at 25th and Martindale. The officer observed a car proceed west on 25th street from the alley west of Martindale and followed it, police said.

The police converged on the automobile in the 1300 block of E. 25th where they arrested DeJarnet and confiscated six bindles of heroin from his mouth, authorities said.

Then police turned their attention to a car driven by Taylor with Nehemiah Major, 28, 1600 S. Keystone as a passenger, at 25th and Martindale.

Police said Major jumped from the car and ran north on Martindale and was pursued by police until captured when he circled back to 25th and Martindale.

GAY McDONALD

Know Your Entertainers

No. 32 in a series
By BOB WOMACK SR.

The fabulous GAY McDONALD, one of Naptown's top exotic dancers and a former model, will headline a group of top-ranked entertainers in a Pre-holiday Caravan Dance Show. The annual affair sponsored by the Co-Ed's Club will be given on this Friday Night, May 25 in the new beautiful Pearl's Ballroom 118 McLean Place. Hours: 9 p.m. until 1 a.m. At the door, donation:

$3.00.

Ms. McDonald is well known among the 'jet-set.' Her specialty, dancing with fire. You should dig this act. It's real crazy! ... The new sensational Merrill Laswell, his trumpet and 'hard-pushing' combo featuring Dick Walker (tenor sax-soloist) will play for the affair. The Womack Enterprises, Inc. is assisting in this operation.

'Daughters of Satan,' 'Superbeast' double horror bill now at Walker

Two subjects on the minds of millions worldwide these days are 1) the scientific possibilities of curing anti-social behavior, and 2) the burgeoning practice of the occult.

Thus it was practically inevitable that an alert, veteran producer like Aubrey Schenck would hit upon a new and unique filmmaking and exhibition procedure such as the back-to-back filming and tandem release of "Superbeast" and "Daughters of Satan." The horror double bill is now showing at the new Walker Theatre through release by United Artists, an entertainment service of Transamerica Corporation.

"Superbeast," written, produced and directed by George William Schenck, deals dramatically with the subject of possible error -- medically and morally -- in experimental scientific work with the minds of criminals placed in penal institutions to pay their debts to society.

It raises such questions as whether or not the State has the right to conduct scientific experiments upon prisoners. It asks does a criminal own his mind? Dare scientists tamper with God's handiwork, no matter how imperfect?

Also showing on same bill are "The Strange Vengeance of Rosalie" and "What Became of Jack & Jill."

COMING TO INDY — THE CHI-LITES, considered one of the most sensational groups in the entertainment world, will appear on the bill with top singer Al Green at the Indianapolis Coliseum Monday night, May 28. Time is 7 p.m. The Chi-Lites have appeared in some of the nation's most popular nite spots as well as theaters and on television. (See advertisement for tickets).

"Shaft in Africa" opens June 27 in 146 theaters

A record number of initial bookings for a Shaft film has been set for "Shaft In Africa," which will be launched in 146 key theatre openings on June 27, it was announced by Bill Madden, MGM vice-president in charge of sales.

This exceeds the previous high of 114 opening playdates set last year by "Shaft's Big Score," second in the popular series. Madden pointed out that the increase in bookings for the new film was due largely to a greater demand for it by theatres in suburban areas. "Shaft In Africa," starring Richard Roundtree, was directed by John Guillermin on location in Africa for producer Roger Lewis. Stirling Silliphant did the screenplay.

Paramount's "Soul of Nigger Charley"

now showing at the Circle theater

Paramount Pictures' "The Soul of Nigger Charley," starring Fred Williamson, D'Urville Martin and Denise Nicholas, produced and directed by Larry G. Spangler, brings full dimension to the character of Charley, living, breathing, finding love, exposing his soul and heart amidst the complex task of survival that has become his life.

FRED WILLIAMSON

cholas is now showing at the Circle Theater.

The Spangler and Sons Pictures Ltd. Production follows the dynamic and rugged adventures that were first established in last year's highly-successful "The Legend of Nigger Charley" which chronicled the saga of a black escaped slave facing violence and death on the Western plains.

"The Soul of Nigger Charley," produced and directed by Larry G. Spangler, brings full dimension to the character of Charley, living, breathing, finding love, exposing his soul and heart amidst the complex task of survival that has become his life.

Spangler filmed "The Soul of Nigger Charley" on locations in a 60-mile radius from Tucson, Arizona, drawing upon the naked landscape as his setting for the tale of force, brute strength and man's ability to survive under the most torturous conditions. There is rugged action, violent adventure but also the tender passion of a man whose strength is constantly being put to the most grueling of tests.

Lou Rawls, one of the record industry's most acclaimed and popular artists, sings two new songs in "The Soul of Nigger Charley," with music by Don Costa and lyrics by Guy Hemric. The music score was composed and conducted by Costa with musical direction by Tony Scotti.

Also in the case are Pedro Armendariz, Jr., Kirk Calloway, George Allen and Kevin Hagen. The screenplay by Harold Livingston is based on an original story by Larry G. Spangler.

Associate producer of Black Omnibus on speaking tour

LOS ANGELES, Calif.--- Leroy Robinson, associate producer and head writer of the nationally syndicated television series, Black Omnibus, is scheduled for a national speaking tour beginning with the Mass Media Department of Atlanta's all black Clark College on May 21st.

Thirty-nine year old Robinson who gained fame in his early career as a jazz critic, was also former editor of Elegant Soul Illustrated and contributing writer of Jazz & Pop, Billboard, L.A. Times and Show Magazine.

The topics he will lecture on will include subjects surrounding the business, financial and creative ends of show business as well as the many formulas he has used to develop himself into a good and complete writer. Along with this he will pinpoint the many facets writers have to devise in order to become craftsmen in their fields.

ISAAC HAYES, Academy Award nominee and Golden Globes winner for his scoring of "Shaft," is among the stars in the film "Wattstax" now showing at the Indiana Theater. Others in the picture are The Staple Singers, Luther Ingram, The Emotions, Rufus Thomas, Carla Thomas, Kim Weston and Richard Pryor.

Also an accomplished screenwriter, Robinson has just completed the script to the legendary folk classic, Stagolee, for Chocolate Chip Productions in which he is a partner with Joe R. Hartsfield. That film will roll in Georgia in August. Chocolate Chip's first film, "The House on Skull Mountain" is now in production in Atlanta.

Newspaper photo opened door to TV for 'Sanford and Son's Ilunga Adell

Ilunga Adell does not, of course, play either of the two principals in NBC Television's Network's hit series, "Sanford and Son." He has not even appeared as any of the many Sanford relatives who have turned up from time to time. But having written five scripts in 1972-73 and being scheduled to write eight for next season, Ilunga has more than earned the right to be considered a member in good standing of the Sanford "family."

So often success in showbusiness is traceable to someone being "in the right place at the right time." In Ilunga's case, it was his photograph that turned up in what proved to be the right place—namely the New York Times. The young Tennessee-born Adell Stevenson 24 years ago in Memphis had written a play, "One: The Two of Us," which was part of a collection being featured last June at Joseph Papp's Public Theater in New York. Before the plays opened, a group picture of the playwrights appeared in the Sunday Times. "Sanford and Son" producer Aaron Ruben, constantly on the lookout at the time for blacks capable of writing scripts for the series, saw the picture. Ruben called, and before long, Ilunga Adell was "in."

Ilunga recalls that he started work "almost immediately" on "Have Gun Will Sell," his first script. "I had seen the show only once so they arranged for me to screen a few episodes to familiarize myself with the characters."

He says he has not found it difficult to make the transition from writing primarily for the stage to writing for television. "Basically what I do is write plays that can be adapted to the screen," he says. "The major factor in TV, of course, is the time limit. You must be concise."

Joining the "Sanford and Son" bandwagon provided Ilunga with the opportunity to re-establish contact with Demond Wilson, who plays Lamond Sanford in the series. Back in 1969 when Ilunga's inclinations were toward performing more than writing, he met Demond when they both appeared in a play, "Five On the Black Hand Side," in New York. "His was just a small part," Ilunga recalls with a grin. "I had a bigger role than he did."

him isn't a small one either. The series about an aging junkman and his son is based on the British "Steptoe and Son" series and during the first season all scripts but one were adapted from the British version. To develop its own character, however, and step out of the mold of its c o c k n e y counterpart "Sanford and Son" needed to reflect more of the black experience. Ilunga is not unaware of his large share of the responsibility for bringing this about.

Looking toward the upcoming season and his substantial writing assignment he says, "When I think about it I realize that eight episodes constitute quite a bit of the schedule. I'm a great believer in fate, destiny," he adds philosophically. "I think if you're presented with an opportunity you should capitalize on it." Ilunga Adell leaves no doubt that he plans to do just that. ("Sanford and Son" is color-cast Fridays, 8-9:30 p.m. NYT, on NBC-TV.)

LEGAL NOTICE

PUBLIC HEARING

Notice is hereby given that a public hearing will be held at 2:00 p.m. on Friday, June 15, 1973, in the Auditorium of the Lawrence Central High School, 7300 East 56th Street, Indianapolis, Indiana, for purpose of discussing currently proposed design plans for a proposed general improvement and upgrading of 56th Street in the northeastern part of the City of Indianapolis in Marion County. Federal and State Relocation Assistance Programs and tentative timetables for right-of-way acquisition and construction will also be reviewed.

The project section to be considered begins just east of the I-465 interchange on east 56th Street, and then extends in an easterly direction for a distance of approximately 0.854 miles, ending at the intersection of 56th Street and Franklin Road. As proposed, the project will follow the existing alignment of 56th Street, and will include the widening of pavement, sidewalks, curbs and gutters, storm sewers seeding and sodding of exposed right-of-way, the improvement of intersections, and subsurface drainage. Construction, as now proposed, will consist of two eastbound and two westbound pavements separated by a 16-foot median. Individual lane widths will be 12 feet, not including curb offsets, with left turn lanes provided at various intersections. At the present, median openings and 12-foot left turning lanes are proposed at the following locations: Frontage Road (Northside of 56th Street); Edlow Street; Lawrence Central High School Athletic Field; Richard Street; Entrance to Mystic Circle Lodge; Entrance to Belzer Junior High School; Boy Scout Road, Franklin Road.

Highway Commission personnel will be available on the date of the hearing from 10:00 a.m. to 12 Noon in the Auditorium on the north side of the school for individual explanations and relevant discussions with any interested citizen. Detailed plans, a negative environmental declaration and draft design study report, along with written comments and views received from any source relative to the proposed project, are publicly available for inspection and copying at any time in the Drafting Room of the Indianapolis Department of Transportation, Room 2342, City-County Building Indianapolis, Indiana, and in Room 1205 of the Indiana State Office Building, 100 North Senate Avenue, Indianapolis. Give a way location sketches are on hand in the same offices.

All interested parties are invited and urged to be present or represented at either or both sessions of the meeting, including spokesmen for Federal, State and local governmental agencies agricultural, commercial, industrial, business, transportation, and utilities interests; civic, social, economic, environmental, and ecological concerns; and private citizens or property owners. All parties will be afforded full opportunity to express their views and furnish specific data on matters pertinent to the project. Written statements and exhibits will also be accepted for purpose of the official record in the Office of the Indiana State Highway Commissioner's Planning Information Manager at the aforementioned Indianapolis address any time from this date and for a period of two weeks following the public hearing, or may be handed to the presiding officer at the meeting.

This notice is published in compliance with Title 23 U.S. Code, Federal Road Acts of 1958, and the Federal Highway Administration's Policy and Procedure Memorandum 20-8 of 1969.

Church Events

By WILLA THOMAS

We wish to congratulate all of the 1973 graduates in grade schools, high schools and colleges. May success follow you wherever you go.

I attended I.U.P.U.I. and Indiana Central College commencements. To a big surprise, who should be the guest speaker at Indiana Central but a graduate of the school, William (Bill) Rabe, an Indianapolis native living in the nation's capital.

He's a writer for a widely-read Washington newspaper. He did a very good job. I'm sure you read his column in The Indianapolis Star.

Welcome home to Rev. C. B. Bailey now of Jacksonville, Fla. Rev. Bailey will speak at First Baptist Church, North Indianapolis, in a revival beginning on the 28th. Service will start each evening at 7:30 p.m.

Rev. Bailey is well known all over the country for his preaching of the Gospel of Jesus Christ. We hope you will come.

If you can help by driving during our national congress which opens on the 12th of June, with a concert at the Convention Center, please call Mrs. F. Benjamin Davis will direct the group. Get your tickets NOW! Some are being sold in drugstores and shops, as well as churches.

A tribute this week to Mrs. Loyal Fellows, a member of Tabernacle Church. She has served as chairman of the Migrant Committee for Church Women United for several years.

She's a dedicated Christian and has been a member of Tabernacle for 30 years. She worked hard to help the estimated 20,000 migrants who come to our state to help plant crops and to harvest them.

Remember, you too can help someone. Why not call me and we can give you something to do that will bless your life. Church women of today, there is a lot of mission work you can do—please help God out.

Mrs. L.S. Gaston, wife of the minister of First Baptist Church of West Indianapolis remains ill in her home. Please send cards and pray for her.

International Students of the World will present an international program Sunday, May 27, at 3:30 p.m. at the New Bethel Baptist Church. Items from various countries will be on display. The program is sponsored by the Nurses Unit of the church.

The Greater St. John Missionary Baptist Church was host last week to the Martin Luther King District Convention. Sorry I didn't know about this. If the moderator of the convention can supply me with names of all the officers elected last week, I shall

Johnson victorious in pro debut; Goins also a winner

Marvin Johnson opened his professional career with a second round blast which resulted in a knockout Tuesday night before a delighted hometown crowd of 2,000 at Tyndall Armory.

Another local favorite, Norman Goins, won his fifth professional bout on a second round TKO.

Johnson, the lad who won the bronze medal in the light heavyweight division in the Munich Olympic Games, handed Sylvester Wilder of Cleveland his ninth defeat against nine wins and one draw.

Using his convention south-paw style of fighting, Johnson took the fight to Wilder and used his lightning fast right hook to stop Wilder. He took the first round and his left hook connected at the 1:30 mark of the second round and Wilder fell to defeat.

The battle convinced the audience that Johnson will be a contender to reckoned with in the future. He was sharp, real sharp in fact—against the less than outstanding Wilder, definitely not one of the better light heavyweights.

Before the Johnson bout it was Goins' show. The lightweight from Atterbury J o b Corps Center caught his opponent Johnny Howard of Richmond, Va., with a hard right at 1:50 of round two.

He staggered Howard in the first round with his continuous jabbing and crossing.

One of the best bouts of the evening came between Sammy Maul of Dayton and Jimmie Jones of St. Louis, a pair of welterweights. Neither fighter gave ground as officials at ringside were splattered with blood as the sixth and final round ended. Maul won by decision.

Other results saw Lionel Ford of Detroit gaining a close decision over Sammy Floyd of Louisville in a middleweight contest, and John Woods of Kansas City decisioned George McGhee of Toledo in the 175-

Fast field ready for 500 Monday

With veteran drivers occupying all positions in the first three rows of the starting lineup, the fastest field in the history of the Indianapolis Motor Speedway is ready for the green flag at 11 o'clock next Monday morning, May 28.

They'll be competing in the 57th annual 500-mile race for prize money of more than one million dollars and the winner is expected to be the first driver ever to complete the full distance in less than three hours.

Mark Donohue came close last May with a time of three hours, four minutes and 5.54 seconds for an average speed of 162,962 miles an hour; but the average qualifying speed of the entire 1973 field is approximately eight miles an hour faster than a year ago.

Johnny Rutherford broke

Bobby Unser's four-lap record by almost three miles an hour to win the coveted pole position behind the Cadillac Eldorado pace car at 198.413 miles an hour with Unser, and Swede Savage also surpassing the former mark. Other veterans in the first three rows this year are Garry Bettenhausen, Mario Andretti, Steve Krisiloff, Al Unser and Jimmy Caruthers all at better than 194 miles per hour.

Tennis lessons available at 10 city park locations

With an instructor for every 10 students, group tennis clinics, for children and adults, will be held at 10 tennis courts, in 2 sessions, with the first beginning the week of June 11. F. Arthur Strong, Recreation Superintendent, announced. The first session he continued, will end July 13 and the second will be from July 30 to August 31, with the cost being $10 per person, for each session.

Douglas Little League to kickoff 20th season June 2

Douglas Little League will kickoff its 20th season Saturday, June 2, with three "major league" games with a special program sandwiched in between at Elsie Clark Memorial Field, 22nd and Ralston.

The games are scheduled to get underway at 4, 6 and 8 p.m., while introduction of visiting guests, sponsors and donor representatives will be held at 7:30 p.m.

"Twenty years ago we were told by our white constituents in this same type of program that we would not last three years with volunteer help," recalls Larry Dunville, league president. "We are now embarking on our 20th year. Come out and see our boys and dedicated leaders in action."

"We can point with pride to the boys who have been selected by professional teams," said D.B. Abernathy, chairman of the board of directors. Rodney Scott, former Arlington High School baseball and basketball star, played little league ball at Douglas and is now with the Kansas City farm club. He is but one of many who have gone on to promising careers.

"Come out and bring your families and friends," Abernathy urged the public. "There's never a charge for the entertainment we provide."

Tickets go on sale for Reds-Indians exhibition

Tickets have been placed on sale for the N.L. Champion Cincinnati Reds Indians exhibition game scheduled here for June 14 at 7 p.m.

The Reds feature two-time Most Valuable Player Johnny Bench, premier 300-hitter Pete Rose and stolen base phenom Joe Morgan.

The Indians, off to a promising start will display the top Reds' prospects in Dan Driesen (.390), Ken Griffey (.349), Joe Youngblood (.311), and Ed Armbrister (.306).

Adult box seats are priced at $3 and children age 14 and under are tabbed at $2. Reserved grandstand seating will be in effect for the exhibition priced at $2.50 for adults and $1.50 for children.

Mail orders as well as counter sales are being encouraged early enough for choice seat locations. The Bush Stadium ticket office will be open 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily while the team is on the road, and from 9 a.m. till 10 p.m. when at home.

Address all mail orders with check and self-addressed, stamped envelope to Indians Inc., Bush Stadium 1501 W. 16th St., Indianapolis, Ind., 46202.

Washington's girls track team takes 2nd straight city title

Washington High School's girls track team are city champions for the second straight year.

In case you've forgotten, track competition sanction by the IHSA between high school girls is only in its second year.

Now the Westsiders are favored in the City-County meet coming up next week.

In competition at John Marshall High School last Tuesday (May 15) Washington outran Crispus Attucks to capture their second title, totaling 90 points to the Tigers' 48 1/2. A total of 14 teams participated, compared to 12 last year.

Coached by Polly Williams, Washington broke five city records.

Brebeuf's Bryan Robinson set two new sectional marks but his team placed fifth in the sectional track and field meet held last Thursday night (May 17) at North Central.

The youngster broke the existing record in the 440 with a :49.5 clocking, breaking the old mark of :49.7, and leaped 23- in the long jump, breaking the 13-year 22-7 1/2 mark. North Central's Kent Costin also broke the 440 record with his time of :49.6, but Robinson was just a shade faster.

A total of five new records were established. North Central's Gary England set a new mark with a 160-3 1/2 discus mark, but fell short of the

...So now hear this

And the Pentagon Papers Watergate affair has also clearly shown us the value that a strong press could play in our community. For no matter which way we view it, the Washington Post and New York Times newspapers and columnist Jack Anderson played a key role in unveiling the ugliness of government actions in both cases.

The Black press needs to develop the capacity to do similar things, especially in regards to issues—both local and national directly affecting our community and people.

Often times it seems as if the business end of our news operations is overtaking our primary reason for existing—to dispense news and information to our people. Black people are in a great time of chaos and repression. And the question before the Black press is whether to become an agent of progress or a vehicle of stagnation; a crusader for the many or a refuge for the few.

Understandably, this is no simple task, for the obstacles to making such a move are complex, and involve such un-newsworthy items as the flow of advertising revenues into newspaper operation and the availability of dedicated and qualified personnel.

But such difficulties should never become scapegoats for dismissing urgent self-examination, on the part of both the Black press and the Black community, in an attempt to ascertain how the most beneficial and effective cooperative relationship can be nurtured. The decision to go ahead must rest not with the whims of white advertisers, but on the needs and will of the Black community.

Black papers want readers, for circulation brings advertising. But readers want news—real news—so success becomes a two-way street. Just like Watergate and the Pentagon Papers, the stories are there. And it remains the bounden duty of the Black press to uncover them and make their nature known to the people. Armed with proper perspective and reinforced by strong community support, the Black press could tackle such a challenge.

TIPS ON CAR CARE

Tire Care Can Save You Tire Wear

Your tires can wear out twice as fast in Atlanta, Ga., as they do in Syracuse, N. Y.

The reason for this difference in tire mileage across the country is climate and the materials from which the roads are made. But no matter where you drive, you can get better mileage from your tires if you'll just follow some basic rules.

The most important rule of tire care is maintaining your car's tires at the proper level of inflation for the load they must carry. You'll find this pressure in the owner's manual of your car, not on the tire. The inflation pressure marked on the tire is the maximum pressure at which the tire should be run. B.F. Goodrich car care experts tell us:

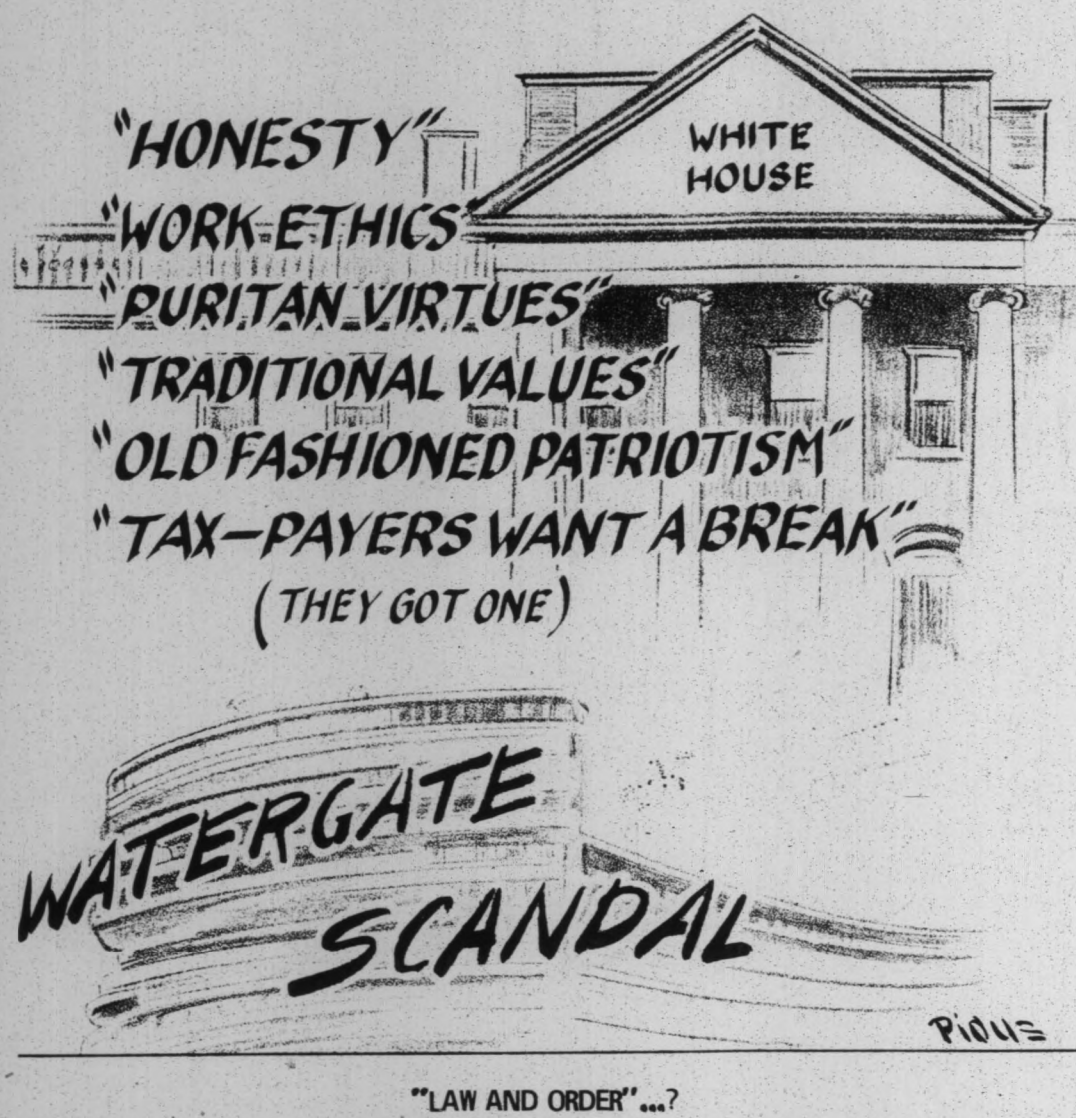

To make sure you keep the recommended air pressure in your tires, check them at least once a month with a good tire pressure gauge while they're cold. The reason they're cold is that even driving a short way will cause the air in the tire to heat up and expand, throwing your reading off.

Why should you check every month even if your tires haven't been damaged in any way that has caused them to lose air? The reason is that all tires from the most expensive to the least expensive — allow a certain amount of air to seep through the pores in the rubber from which they are made. Even though this air loss is small, it is constant, causing tires to drop gradually.

Driving habits also affect tire mileage. If you "burn" away from traffic lights and screech to a halt at stop signs, you're killing your tire mileage. Other factors that will increase tire wear are driving over curbs and other obstructions; going around corners at excessive speeds; and a lot of stop-and-go driving.

Tire care gives you more than economy. It gives you greater safety.

Sickle Cell: the political disease

Sickle cell disease has gotten out of hand. I refer not to the actual illness, but to the public excitement that has come to surround it.

Approximately 10 percent of American blacks have sickle cell trait, an essentially benign condition. However, if both husband and wife have sickle cell trait there is one chance in four with each of their pregnancies that the child will be born with sickle cell anemia. Because the victims of sickle cell anemia are primarily black, the disease can result in additional discrimination against black people.

Before we get into ways in which this occurs, let's examine some of the myths that have sprung up around this once-neglected disorder.

The myth is that only blacks suffer from sickle cell disease, when in fact sickle cell does affect other racial groups. A high incidence of sickle cell disease is found in Mediterranean and North African countries.

Secondly, far too little has been done to inform the public that the mere presence of the sickle cell trait is far different from actually having sickle cell anemia.

Thirdly, there has been far too much sensationalism surrounding sickle cell anemia. The extent to which people with sickle cell anemia are affected in their daily lives has been blown out of all proportion.

Perhaps none of this would matter much, but the publicity about the disease has frightened many blacks, as well as whites, and the passage by some states of laws requiring testing for the trait opens the door to all kinds of abuses. The politics of this disease could well become more dangerous than the disease itself.

That all this is taking place at a time of increased interest in racist claims that blacks have genetically-based low IQs or are inherently inferior for other genetic reasons, makes it especially dangerous.

It is disturbing that in some states black children are being singled out as the only ones required to be screened for sickle cell disease. Until whites are required to take tests for genetic diseases to which they are particularly susceptible, mandatory testing of blacks is discriminatory in, and of, itself.

Through testing, a diagnosis may be made of either the trait or of the disorder, but testing accomplishes little unless it is integrated into a definitive program of education, counseling and treatment. The danger lies in the reckless use of test results which can lead to discrimination against black people. In some instances trait bearers have faced higher insurance rates as the result of testing programs, despite the fact that there is no evidence that individuals with sickle cell trait die prematurely or are ill more frequently than other persons. Remember, the presence of the trait, alone, can be used to justify discrimination.

The armed forces already ban trait bearers, who are as healthy as you and I from certain kinds of active and hazardous duty. Most airlines ground personnel with sickle cell trait. This is a dangerous and punitive trend resulting in penalties for blacks who are healthy and capable of any kind of activity.

There are other instances of abuses, enough to justify blacks calling for better understanding and monitoring of the impact of this new interest in sickle cell disease.

There is a need for a more appropriate emphasis on testing for the trait and for far greater effort to be spent on further research on treatment, management and a possible cure. The interest that has been inspired in this disorder should fade without lessening necessary financial support. The needs of the victims of this disorder should be placed in perspective to avoid usurping attention and funds for research on other diseases that affect black people disproportionately.

Hypertension, for example, killed over 13,000 blacks last year, while less than 400 died from sickle cell anemia. It is clear that black people must be wary of the hue and cry about sickle cell disease and prevent manipulators from turning a medical problem into yet another vehicle for discrimination.

Therefore a door-to-door opinion poll was conducted among the alert blacks concerning Dr. Shockley's contention. All believe Dr. Shockley was obviously referring to the blacks' origin as being inferior in their beginnings to whites. So we must go into the oldest history of mankind, the Holy Bible, to understand why the whites continuously defame the blacks' intelligence before all nations of the world.

Recorder article brings volunteers

To the Editor:
After only a year of operation, we are very proud of the 75 citizens who have become involved in our effort to help delinquent children.

But more are needed, not only to broaden our direct contact with these children, but also to fill other roles in tutoring, transportation, public relations and clerical areas.

We thank you for running an article about our role and needs in the March 17 issue of The Recorder. It yielded six inquiries, two of whom have become active. You help in conveying these needs to the public is a l w a y s appreciated. Please feel free to contact us for further information.

the Gallery,' is dead at 66 years of age.

He was an active man involved and committed to more causes and activities than most of us hear of in a life time. He spent his life being involved in improving the opportunity and life style for the entire community.

He has been president of the state and local NAACP, president of the local teachers union, a public school teacher for many years, a faithful and active church member, a serious politician, and a writer, as well as a dedicated freedom fighter.

One of his most noteworthy achievements which will long be remembered in the ongoing struggle for equal educational opportunity is the legal litigation involving the Indianapolis Public Schools desegregation case and its far reaching implications.

Mr. Ramsey was a dedicated husband and active on the social scene as well. As president of the ABA Bridge Club he was an avid bridge enthusiast (life master) and was active in the bridge conclave recently held in our city.

He held numerous offices in the local chapter of Omega Psi Phi fraternity as well as being a 32nd degree Mason.

To the Editor:

This report is a little late in response to Dr. William Shockley's discovery of blacks' genetical intelligence as compared to whites, which appeared in The Recorder (issue of May 5, '73).

It is of great importance to many black Christians to know that at least a "remnant" of black Christians constantly keep themselves in top knowledge of understanding God's truth. Being "watchers" as they are today, they compare all occurring incidents which involve the blacks today, to the fulfilling of the words of prophecy.

Therefore a door-to-door opinion poll was conducted among the alert blacks concerning Dr. Shockley's contention. All believe Dr. Shockley was obviously referring to the blacks' origin as being inferior in their beginnings to whites. So we must go into the oldest history of mankind, the Holy Bible, to understand why the whites continuously defame the blacks' intelligence before all nations of the world.

He was voted "Man of the Year" by his fraternity in 1972 and his church in 1973.

Mr. Ramsey wrote the weekly column, "Voice From the Gallery," (for a period of 27 years), which was a satire and analysis of local and national events pertinent to the black community in particular and the Naptown community as a whole. Indianapolis will miss his insight and his depth philosophy. The "Voice From the Gallery" is silent.

City has lost true champion of equality: Roberts

To the Editor:
The "Voice From the Gallery," written by the articulate and brilliant Andrew Ramsey, which appeared weekly in your newspaper, has been silenced by death.

Those of us who had the opportunity to work with Andrew Ramsey cannot help but reflect on his dynamic personality—a personality which pierced the veil of racial prejudices and for blacks and other minorities. Among minority teenagers, however, the figure is even more devastating—35 to 40 per cent. In addition, approximately 2 1/2 million persons are underemployed, meaning that they "work less than full-time in the full year for economic reasons," according to the Department of Labor.

Black people in this country, Dr. Sullivan explained, are tired of being placed in "chicken pickin' end of the broom jobs" which are non-productive, nonprofitable, and lacking in advancement. The key is to equip the unemployed and underemployed with skills which will enable them to do more than just push that symbolic broom.

Give a man the skills and you help stimulate his self-esteem. Give a man the skills and you help him to help himself. Give a man the skills, and you help assure his economic security.

And, according to Dr. Sullivan, skills plus jobs equal progress, productivity, accountability, and a declining welfare role. That says the Philadelphia minister is what OIC is all about.

After nine years of trial and error, growth and growing pains and adjustments and readjustments to new national policies and new administrations, Dr. Sullivan told the Senate Subcommittee, the poor find that they are continually being cut back, cut up, and cut out of plans and budgets in what they thought was "a policy to help us help ourselves. We hear of a training robbery, but we are not among the robbers, we are among the victims."

In the Senate Richard Schweiker (R-Pa.) has introduced the Opportunities Industrialization Assistance Act which would provide a specific funding level for OIC of $450 million over the next three years, thus enabling 450,000 persons to be trained for jobs that exist, Dr. Sullivan explained. To date the bill has received the support of a bipartisan group of 29 — out of a possible 100 — Senators. In addition, a companion bill has been introduced in the House by Rep. Augustus Hawkins (D-Calif.), a member of the Congressional Black Caucus.

OIC, he said, has a good track record. It can an will succeed in helping blacks and other minorities to lift themselves from the depths and despair of poverty. But it needs "a push, a start" in the right direction.

That's why he said, he has urged Congress to pass the manpower legislation now being considered in both houses, adding that such programs not only affect the paper but the future of American as well.

All alert blacks know the blacks' history in the Holy Bible (King James Authorized Version), also that the blacks from beyond the rivers of Ethiopia (Black Africa) are God's chosen people; it is not the white Israelites from the Babylonian captivity (Deut. 32:9, Psm. 135:4).

Forty percent believe the Chaldeans (whites of America) are afraid the blacks will deal "treacherously" with them, as they have dealt with the blacks, by withholding the truth of the blacks identity in Holy history from them (Isa. 33:1, Hab. 1:6, 12, 13). If the whites cannot find the blacks who have come into the knowledge of the truth of their identity, and Christ's identity, this could create a tremendous misfortune for the souls of the white Americans of this last era who participated in a great "robbery" against God's inheritance, December '71.

This robbery caused "salvation" for the Gentiles to be turned, whereas they must come in through the Jews. This does not refer to the white Israelite Jews, offsprings from those who went into the Babylonian captivity, such as Paul was, but this is referring to the black Jews to whom pertain the "adoption as Israelites" and whose flesh Jesus Christ came through (St. John 4:22, Rom. 9:4, 5).

Forty percent believe Dr. Shockley's contention was not meant to defame the blacks intellectually as well as whites, but is Dr. Shockley's own way of doing things like Paul—he copied Paul's method. Paul said many harsh things against the "adopted Israelite," Jews of Jacobs before the Gentiles in hopes of provoking the "adopted Israelites" to the extent of causing them to search the scriptures for knowledge about themselves. In doing this, they would discover the truth about themselves and Jesus whom they rejected, and thus cause some to "emulate" themselves and be saved (Rom. 11:13, 14' 26).

Ten percent believe Dr. Shockley's contention against blacks' intelligence is because whites would like to provoke black religious intellectuals to come forth and show them—

These funds, which are specifically earmarked for OIC's use, "would say to a mayor or governor 'These are OIC funds,' Dr. Sullivan contended to be used for OIC programs. The designation is needed, he added, because historically, since slavery and reconstruction, Black Americans have been trying to make their way into first-class citizenship with equal opportunities and equity in the American free enterprise system. Historically, Black Americans have learned to play the game according to the rules only to find that by the time they can play the game well enough to start winning, the rules of the game are changed. This is the case today with manpower revenue sharing plans and regulations, thus far," the OIC head said.

"We found that the way to help ourselves in the democratic system was to get legislation passed that would reflect funding to help us with resources until we could make it with fewer resources. We preferred work fare to welfare. We wanted jobs," Dr. Sullivan explained.

In the next 20 years, he predicted, technology will replace one-half of all jobs, one of every two blacks and Chicanos while only one of every four whites will have to be provided some kind of public assistance to survive.

"If a man is not able to perform" Sr. Sullivan concluded, "whatever his color, there will be a place for him in the days ahead to keep him out of poverty."

OIC, he said, has a good track record. It can an will succeed in helping blacks and other minorities to lift themselves from the depths and despair of poverty. But it needs "a push, a start" in the right direction.

That's why he said, he has urged Congress to pass the manpower legislation now being considered in both houses, adding that such programs not only affect the paper but the future of American as well.

Today, the blacks must decide whom he thinks is a liar, either God's word or the white man of America. Many believe it is safe to discover the white man as a liar and be "prudent" about the situation (Deut. 33:28 29, Isa. 10:20, 21, Amos 5:13).

Ten percent believe Dr. Shockley's contention is in coordination with many white psychologists and geneticists who made similar statements about the blacks in 1969. Not any religious blacks responded to their slanderous contentions, and this prompted the whites to set themselves up before God in Jerusalem, December 1971, as the returning people of Jacob, whom God had promised He would "bring again out of captivity" in the last days (Jer. 30:18-24).

Many nations religious leaders participated in the ceremony. God condemns this act as "robbery" against His inheritance Jacob, for the alert blacks, those who knew the truth, did not know what was happening until it was over, therefore it was out-right robbery.

This caused all "nations" who participated to become cut off and come under an impending punishment, including white America call GOG, occupying Jerusalem today (Isa. 17:12-14, Eze. 39:8-11). In January, '73, the European nations seeing there were some blacks who knew the truth, indirectly isolated America, for God commanded them to do this in the book of Hosea, and they would be free from the horrible impending judgement.

This has left America standing alone with a nation of Jews whom Jesus Christ never recognized as Jews, for they are not "adopted Israelites." The real Jews whose "flesh" Christ came through, the whites of America seek to come through them for salvation through stratagem by causing the blacks to believe they are genetically intelligent. Yet at the same time they take black ministers and make them leaders over millions of whites.

Top black information director focuses on mental health message

Washington, D.C., May 7, 1973 In the early months of 1971, Bill Perry's job with Rubenstein, Wolfson and Company, a New York PR firm, was to convince you that you should be drinking a particular brand of scotch whiskey. Today, his job is to convince you of the importance of mental health and of the crucial need for better treatment for the mentally ill.

William E. Perry, Jr., is Director of Public Information for the National Association for Mental Health. Perry, the first black to hold a key executive position with the Association's national office, feels that the most important aspect of his job is to eliminate the fears, myths and superstitions still prevalent concerning mental illness and the mentally ill.

The National Association for Mental Health is a million-member, nationwide citizens' voluntary organization, with State Divisions and local chapters in most states. The Association operates a widespread public information program to inform, educate, change attitudes, and dissolve the stigma which has surrounded mental illness for so many years.

"The people of America," Perry says, "are beginning to change their behavior and attitudes about issues that directly affect them and their families. Mental illness, for centuries considered a taboo subject, is at long last becoming a topic for open discussion. But we are not yet even close to the point where a recovered mental patient is viewed with the same objectivity as a recovered heart disease patient. That is one of our main goals."

Under Perry's guidance, the Association's public information program includes not only the usual press releases, pamphlets and radio-TV spots, but modern films, seminars and ads with a new and somewhat revolutionary approach. NAMH has produced two major films on mental health in two years and is starting production of a third. "People are tired of being lectured to," says Perry. "Our films are designed to be interesting and entertaining. The educational material is there, but it isn't forced on you from beginning to end." (The first of these films, Only Human, has had over two hundred television showings around the country.)

"I find the activities of the Mental Health Association very exciting," says Perry. "We're working hard toward a goal of 1500 comprehensive community mental health centers by 1980. Unlike state hospitals, these centers are located close to where the people live, and can offer out-patient treatment. Often, the patient can be treated while remaining home and on the job. The Association is also working for more and better coverage for mental illness in health insurance plans, including the National Health Insurance proposals now being considered in Congress."

Perry recently had an interesting PR and interpretation challenge when NAMH, along with the American Association on Mental Deficiency, filed suit against the U.S. Department of Labor. The suit was filed after the Department had repeatedly failed to support the payment of wages to mental hospital patients who do non-therapeutic work for the institution. "We're here to do more than the traditional kinds of volunteer work," Perry claims, "and we're beginning to make our voices heard."

Strike down family assistance marriage requirements

In an 8-1 unsigned decision the Supreme Court struck down part of a 1971 New Jersey plan for assistance to families of the working poor which prevents health and welfare assistance to children born of parents not formally married.

A coalition of welfare rights groups and church groups who brought the complaint argued that the state financed program discriminated against both the children and parents. The Court in agreement with the argument said that "there can be no doubt that the benefits extended under the challenged program are as indispensable to the health and well being of illegitimate children as to those who are legitimate."

Philadelphia sister Oil Company wheel

PHILADELPHIA--- Miss Barbara C. Harris has assumed the position of public relations manager of the Sun Oil Company last Friday.

In this post she will direct public relations for Sun's marketing, refining and transportation divisions. She also will be responsible for public relations affecting Sun's international and subsidiary operations.

Miss Harris will direct staff personnel in Philadelphia and Tulsa and report to John L. Olsen vice president of planning and administration.

Previously she was president of Joseph V. Baker Associates a national public relations firm headquartered in Philadelphia.

Miss Harris is president of the Philadelphia chapter of the Public Relations Society of America and a trustee of the Foundation of Public Relations Research and Education.

New rules govern hiring of workers at low-skill level

The U.S. Civil Service Commission has issued new requirements to be applied when low-skilled persons are hired for essential work that requires little previous training or knowledge. Those hired will be given developmental opportunities so that persons having the ability to do so may advance to better positions.

The new plan is part of the Commission's continuing effort to provide opportunities in the Federal service for persons at all skill levels and to match the employee with the job for maximum productivity.

The Commission's action will insure that the Federal Government is open to persons at all skill levels and is consistent with the intent of the Equal Employment Opportunity Act of 1972, which requires agencies to implement training and education programs to provide maximum opportunity for employees to reach their full potential.

The plan outlined by the Commission reflects a new approach to the training and upgrading of selected employees hired through the Worker - Trainee examination or under special authorities for hiring veterans with limited schooling, to fill vacancies at the lowest levels of Federal employment. Entry jobs will include those in white collar grade GS-1 ($4798 per year); blue collar grades WG-1 ($2.13 to $3.87 per hour, depending on geographic location) and WG-2 ($2.36 to $4.05 per hour); and Postal Service levels PS-1 ($428 per year), PS-2 ($6847), and PS-3 ($7300).

Trainees selected for developmental job assignments will not be charged to agency manpower ceilings for the first 12 months they are on the job. The Commission's instructions contain technical guidance to help agencies plan their individual programs and require submission of agency plans to the Commission for approval. After review and approval of agency plans to hire and develop low - skilled persons, the Commission will monitor and evaluate agency progress and will assist agencies in putting their plans into effect.

Revenue sharing to be '73 PUSH target

CHICAGO—(NBNS)--- Rev. Jesse Jackson, head of the Chicago - based Operation PUSH says that his organization will challenge the revenue sharing program of the federal government. Jackson's criticism of the program is that it concentrates federal funds in the hands of a few local officials to the detriment of "human needs." He promised a new coalition of civil rights religious, and labor groups to fight in the courts and in the streets.

Co-captain Debbie Quarles, only a sophomore set a new standard in the 100-yard dash with a time of 12.0, breaking Aletha Chandler's record set last year of 12.2. The speedster also set a new mark in the 220-yard dash with a time of 27.3, and anchored the 440 relay team which broke its own mark with a 54.1.

Freshman Paula Williams set a new record in the 440-yard run with a time of 1:04.8. The newcomer also placed second in the 800-yard run and led off the 880-yard relay team that finished second.

Donna Pope, a sophomore, and team co-captain took the long jump event with a distance of 15-8 1/2, a new record. She placed third in the shot put and anchored the 80-yard relay team.

Junior Toni Payne came in second in the 100, third in the long jump and led off the record setting 440 relay unit. Other members of the 440 team were sophomore Joette Bailey and junior Willie Ann Carter.

Kathy Gaddie and Bonita Rice both freshmen, ran on the 800 relay team. Kathy placed 5th in the 220 as well.

Sophomore Carole Blane placed 5th in the 440 run to compliment the team score. The team could have gotten more points if an accident hadn't sidelined Carol Grace. During Washington's undefeated regular season she cleared 5-0 in the high jump breaking the old record of 4-0.

Other members of the team are Vickie Boling, Robin Brewington, Lisa Hall, Yvonne Heflin, Janice Jones, Rhonda Maxey, Sophronia Thompson and Sabrina Williams.

"We would like to thank everyone who helped the team with its organization and success," Coach Williams announced after the victory. "We would like to give special recognition to our faithful team trainer-manager, Sandra Downs."

District No. 2, O.E.S., will hold its annual Esther Day services at Fidelity Hall, 143 W. 40th, on Sunday, June 3, at 3 p.m. Masonic Lodges of both Central Districts 1 and 2 have been invited to attend and participate in the dedication services with the O.E.S. Lillian Holt is the District Deputy of District 2, and Charles Tootle is the District Patron.

The St. John's Day Committee headed by Past Master Edward Jefferson, held a meeting on Sunday, May 20, at Prince Hall, 653 N. West, to continue plans for the annual St. John's Day services and parade to be held at the Eastern Star Baptist Church, 22nd and Columbia, on June 24. The committee members composed of members of lodges in Central Districts 1 and 2, announced that the program plans are nearing completion. The parade site will be announced at a later date. All members of the district are urged to attend the St. John's Day ceremonies.

Andretti and Foyt are the former winners at the track this year. Others who have led the field for one or more laps in recent years are USAC National Champion Joe Leonard, Lloyd Ruby, Mike Mosley, Jerry Grant and Bettenhausen.

The traditional drivers meeting will be held at noon on Sunday in front of the control tower at the start-finish line, and the colorful "500" Festival parade of marching units, beautiful floats and nationally prominent celebrities-- as well as the race drivers -- will get underway in the downtown Indianapolis area three hours later.

Gates to the Speedway will be opened Monday morning at 5 a.m. (EST) with a 90-minute program of colorful pageantry scheduled to start at 9:30. Cynthia Ann Foster, queen of the "500" festival, and her court, will lead the procession of stars from the entertainment world and the band spectacle will include units from all parts of the nation as well as Purdue University's famous All-American unit.

The program will reach its climax with "Back Home Again in Indiana" and Speedway President Tony Hulman's electrifying command, "Gentlemen, Start Your Engines" at 10:53 to set the stage for the "flying start."

Jewish groups endorse busing as school desegregation move

Busing of school children must be used now to undo segregation, just as it was used in the past to achieve segregation, nine national Jewish organizations have told a Congressional committee.

The nine organizations, long active in civil rights, blasted the use of the term "forced busing" as a "rhetorical trick."

Anything done under orders of a government authority can be called "forced," they noted; but nobody describes the school attendance laws as "forced school attendance" laws.

The following groups joined in presenting these views to the House Judiciary Committee, which is holding hearings on a number of so-called anti-busing amendments to the Constitution:

American Jewish Committee
American Jewish Congress
B'nai B'rith--Anti-Defamation League
Jewish Labor Committee
Jewish War Veterans of the U.S.A.
National Council of Jewish Women
Union of American Hebrew

Congregations
Union of Orthodox Jewish Congregations of America
United Synagogue of America
The views were incorporated in a statement submitted by Albert E. Arent, chairman of the National Jewish Community Relations Advisory Council.

"Adoption of a constitutional amendment designed to halt busing or other desegregation measures would be a signal to the world that the American people had departed from the principles of freedom and equality," the statement said.

It is segregation, not busing, that is "evil," it added. Busing, where necessary to end that evil, is simply one of many steps taken to assure good education for all children.

President Nixon's proposal for a "moratorium on busing" was called "tragic and probably illegal" by the Jewish organizations. They said:

"Our whole system of law would be undermined if courts were compelled to tell persons applying for redress: 'Yes, your constitutional rights have been invaded. But we are barred from giving you effective relief.' The organizations condemned all pending anti-busing amendments as attempts "to curb practices that have been found necessary to free American children from suffering educational deprivation because of their race."

Most of the proposed amendments, they said, are not just "anti-busing" amendments, but anti-desegregation amendments, forbidding consideration of race in assigning pupils to schools.

They also derided as "simplistic" other proposed amendments that would guarantee every child the "right" to attend a "neighborhood" school.

This would put "the convenience of neighborhood schools above the objective of erasing racial segregation and its attendant educational evils," they asserted.

The Jewish organizations declared that they "support the twin objectives of integration and quality education," which they regard as "indivisible." While finding the reluctance of parents to see their children transferred to substandard schools understandable, they asserted that it is not enough to say that children should not be transferred to bad schools; the children who are in bad schools should be brought up to standard. And that has nothing to do with busing, the Jewish groups observed.

Ford film to help identify and treat drinking drivers

A new Ford Motor Company motion picture which reports on a dramatically effective program to identify and treat problem drinkers who drive has been presented to the Indianapolis Alcohol Safety Action Project.

The presentation was made to ASAP Director Joseph J. Shary, by W.E. Slatin, chairman of Ford's Indianapolis Community Relations Committee. The film will be used in Indianapolis ASAP's public education program.

Titled "C.R.A.S.H. -- Alcohol and Highway Safety," the documentary is based on a Department of Transportation program in Burlington, Vt., called Countermeasures Related to Alcohol Safety on the Highway (C.R.A.S.H.).

The project is one of the 35 federally sponsored programs across the country. In the Vermont Program, and the Indianapolis ASAP project treatment for the Problem Drinking Driver, is emphasized as a condition of probation.

The film has the endorsement of the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration.

The movie centers on a man whose arrest for driving while under the influence of alcohol threatens a possible jail sentence. It follows his unwilling entry into the Vermont rehabilitation program where advisors and other problem drinkers try to help him recognize his problem -- and do something to solve it.

The 16 mm color film runs 28 minutes and is sponsored by Ford as a public service.

Prints of "C.R.A.S.H.," also are available for loan from the Ford Motor Company Film Library, the American Road & Dearborn, Michigan - 48121 or Indianapolis ASAP, City-County Bldg.

Black mothers support families more than whites

A special study by the U.S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics showed that three times as many black children as white live in families where the father is absent, unemployed or out of the labor force.

Among families headed by women, 55 per cent of the white children, as compared to 44 per cent of the black children, have working mothers.

"Relatively more of the black than Caucasian families had pre-school children, which restricts the possibility of work outside the home," Anne M. Young, author of the article printed in "Monthly Labor Review," published by the bureau.

"Only a third of black women who head families had at least a high school education, compared with slightly more than half of the white women who were family heads in 1971," she said.

The labor force status of the mother in families headed by women made a financial difference to her family; median income was $5,795 if she was employed, $3,230 if she was not. Families with neither parent in the work force had median incomes of $4,920.

"With the increasing credentialism in recent years, the lack of a high school diploma or other certified training was at least a partial barrier to the employment for these women," she continued.

Whether black or Caucasian income in families that women head much lower than income among families headed by men. Of 5 million caucasian children in fatherless families in March 1972, 30 per cent were in families whose 1971 income was less than $3,000 and 24 per cent in the next income bracket $3,000 to $4,999.

For blacks and whites, the labor force participation of mothers brought significant economic benefits to their families. When the mother worked median family income was $12,990 if the father was employed, $9,290 when he was unemployed, and $8,101 when he was not in the labor force.

Constituents are invited to visit with Rep. Hudnut

Congressman William H. Hudnut this week extended an invitation to constituents of the Eleventh District to visit with him in his new Indianapolis office Friday, May 25, 1973, between 9 a.m. and 11 a.m.

The office is located in Room 441A of the Federal Building (the old Post Office) at 46 East Ohio Street.

Congressman Hudnut said, "It's important that people have a chance to visit with their representative in Washington, and I'm going to do everything I can to stay in touch."

West Indies Jaycees laud Indiana exchange

"The Ambassador Exchange Program between the Jaycees of India and the Jaycees of the West Indies is a fine example of international brotherhood and friendship and it should continue to foster goodwill between the peoples of the United States and the West Indies."

This was George Phillip's message to Governor Otis R. Bowen during a meeting between the two last week. Phillips is president of the Jaycees of Jamaica and he and eight others were in Indianapolis as guests of the Speedway Jaycees as part of the West Indies/Indiana Ambassador Exchange program.

Phillips presented the governor with a mahoe box of Jamaican cigars on the occasion of "State Government Day," during which the West Indies Jaycees and the U.S. Jaycees visited him at the state capitol.

The delegation also called on Mayor Richard Lugar, who explained to the group the uni-government concepts of city development and management. Both the governor and the mayor answered many questions on the political administration of this state and city.

The West Indies Ambassadors attended the Indiana State Convention at Fort Wayne the weekend of May 5 where about 5,000 Jaycees representing more than 200 chapters from all over the state elected Joe Craven as president.

The West Indies Jaycee Ambassadors include Mrs. Joy Segre and Messrs. Everett Lake, president of the Antigua Jaycees; James Nurse from Barbados; George Hendricks, Terrence Gillette, Leon Gordon, George Chang and Winston Wright from Jamaica.

All the Jaycees spent about three days with four chapters before departing for their homelands Sunday following a farewell dinner sponsored by the Speedway Jaycees at Holiday Inn I-70.

In each chapter the Ambassadors were invited to visit the mayor of the city, tour the cultural, political and recreational facilities of the city, and exchange ideas and experience about the Jaycees movement.

In addition the West Indies Jaycees addressed several groups and worked on several Jaycees projects. The Ambassador Exchange Program between the Indiana and the West Indies Jaycees was started four years ago by Ryan Peralto, then president of the Jaycees of Jamaica.

Many voluntary summer jobs are available

The Volunteer Bureau--Indianapolis Voluntary Action Center announced this week that there are many volunteer jobs available this summer for anyone with a few hours of extra time. High school and college students with leisure time will be especially interested in opportunities for involvement in volunteer service this summer in Indianapolis.

The principal requirement is an interest in helping others and willingness to give at least one half day per week to work in a hospital, a day care center, in a tutoring program with a summer recreation activities program for pre-teens, in special therapy classes for the handicapped, to name only a few.

The Volunteer Bureau refers volunteers to over 200 different programs in Marion County. It matches the volunteer's interest and skills and available time with the job most likely to provide satisfaction to the volunteer, and much-needed help to a community program.

Training for many programs is given early in June. Early application is urged to be sure of participation in the kind of volunteer experience desired.

For full information about a rewarding and interesting volunteer experience this summer, call the Volunteer Bureau, 634-4311.

Labor Dept. booklet offers hints for taking aptitude tests

WASHINGTON---

Do you get uptight when you have to take a test?

If so you may score lower than you should. This is particularly serious if you're taking an aptitude test which helps find out what kind of work you can do best.

To help you, a Labor Department booklet "Doing Your Best on Aptitude Tests," offers helpful hints for taking aptitude tests administered by the State Employment Services, schools, or private employers.

The publication has also been translated into Spanish as part of the Labor Department's continuing effort to improve services to individuals who may have a limited command of the English language.

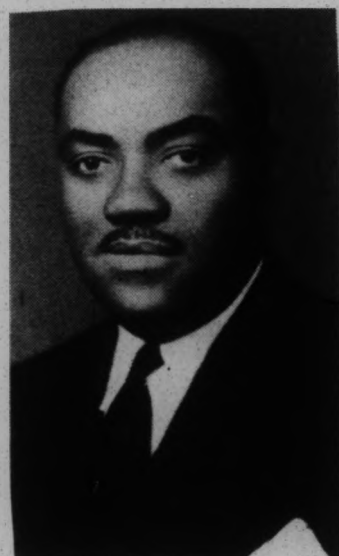

The 14-page booklet explains the purpose of aptitude tests, lists rules to follow, and includes a short sample test. It points out that not all tests are of a paper - and - pencil type; some have you work with your hands.

The booklet tells the reader that aptitude tests are not the only way of finding out what he can do, but they can be signposts that point in the direction of success.

The publication was developed by the U.S. Employment Service of the Manpower Administration in cooperation with affiliated State Employment Service offices.

The publication is for sale by the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington D.C. 20402. The English booklet sells for 25 cents a copy (Catalog No. L 1-2: Ap. 3); the Spanish language booklet is 20 cents a copy (Catalog No. L 1:2 Ap. 8/S).

Rites held for F.D. Haslewood, teacher 39 years

FRED D. HASLEWOOD

Memorial services for Mr. Fred D. Haslewood, 72, 245 W. 38th, were held May 16 at Mt. Zion Baptist Church, with the Rev. Robert King officiating. He died May 11 in Methodist Hospital.

Mr. Haslewood was born in Buffalo, Ky. later moving to Indianapolis where he completed his education. He had lived here 60 years.

After graduating from Indiana State University he taught in the Indianapolis School system at Schools 2, 26 and 42 before retiring in 1966 after 39 years. He had received his masters from Butler University in 1945.

He also was a night auditor for 20 years at L.S. Ayres and Company, and was a member of Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity, the Indianapolis Music Promoters Club, a member of the board at the Mount Zion Credit Union, and the Indianapolis and Louisville Clubs.

Mr. Haslewood spent most of his life helping young people prepare for a worthwhile place in society.

Survivors include a brother, McKinley Haslewood; two sisters Mrs. Bertha Borrah and Mrs. Ida Gould, and a host of nieces and nephews, including Mrs. Vivian Sanders of Detroit.

Dr. Leon E. Thompson—

The man behind the baton

By RONALD E. TAYLOR

Dr. Leon E. Thompson, director of educational activities for the New York Philharmonic, graced our city last week conducting the Indianapolis Symphony for performances in the Indianapolis Public Schools.

He was here for Phase III of the Symphony in the Schools Program sponsored by Community Services Program. Phase I and II brought various ensembles into the schools and Phase III presented a chamber orchestra with instrumentalist vocalist and dancers.

Dr. Thompson appeared at Schools 4, 18, 26 and 81 last week. Phase IV is taking place this week and is featuring the full symphony in concert at Clowes Hall.

Dr. Thompson serves in a similar capacity while in New York. For more than three years he has administered the N.Y. Philharmonic Education Activities as well as serve in the artistic capacity of conducting and selecting the music for these special projects.

The New York program is just not limited to performances for the public school students but there are also special seminars and workshops for teachers. He says he tries to present classical music to students in grades 4-12 in a manner that will immediately captivate their attention. The various programs are geared for grades 4-6, 7-9 with two different ones for 10-12. The last category divides the audience into the non-concert going and the sophisticated.

The beautiful characteristic of Dr. Thompson is his promotion of blacks in classic music. He attempts to use symphonic music of the black composers as well as black soloists and musicians. He has a tour planned in Mississippi next fall where he will utilize the black talent of that area almost exclusively.

Dr. Thompson also heads the Music Assistance Fund which seeks to further the development of the non-white instrumentalists who are working toward a professional orchestral career.

Dr. Thompson who has earned degrees from the University of Southern California, Virginia State College and Eastman School of Music, has studied conducting privately with the renowned Pierre Monteux. He has also participated in workshops for conductors sponsored by the American Symphony League, the Metropolitan Opera Association and the Juilliard School of Music. His teachers have included Nadia Boulanger, Howard Hanson, Walter Ducloir, Sir Jack Westrup, Carl Parrish, Ingolf Dahl, George Szell and Jean Fournier.

He conducted the Southeast Los Angeles Symphony Orchestra for three seasons and performances of "La Boheme," "Cavalleria Rusticana," and

Free medical care offered to victims of Tuskegee 'study'

Seventy-seven of the known 114 surviving Black males involved in an outrageous syphilis "study" in Tuskegee, Ala., have accepted an offer from the federal government of free medical care for the rest of their lives.

The study which began in 1932 left syphilis untreated in about 600 Black males in order to study the effects of the disease.

"Les Syphilides" for the Hollywood Opera Showcase. At the University of Southern California he conducted performances of "Don Pasquale, Don Giovanni, Faust" and "The Magic Flute."

Dr. Thompson still finds time to accept guest conducting engagements in Europe and America. Some of the most recent were in France; the National Symphony Orchestra in Washington, D.C.; the American Symphony Orchestra, the Richmond Symphony Orchestra, the Indianapolis Symphony, and the New York Philharmonic.

He is married to Jewel Taylor Thompson, also a graduate of Eastman School of Music. His wife is a pianist and holds a masters degree in piano and theory and is currently on the faculty of Hunter College in New York.

TUNA SHIP CHOWDER
(Makes 5 cups)

- |  |   |
|--|---|
| 1 1/2 cups (14 1/2-ounce can) sliced baby tomatoes | 2 cups chicken stock                          |
| 2 tablespoons butter                               | 1/2 cups undiluted Carnation Evaporated Milk  |
| 1/4 cup chopped onion                              | 1 cup (7-ounce can) drained water packed tuna |
| 1/4 cup chopped green pepper                       | 1/2 cup shredded process American cheese      |
| 1/4 cup finely chopped carrots                     | Parsley                                       |
| 3 to 4 tablespoons flour                           |   |
| 1/2 teaspoon pepper                                |   |

Drain sliced baby tomatoes; reserve liquid. Melt butter in medium saucepan. Add onion, green pepper and carrots; saute until tender. Add flour and pepper. Blend well. Remove from heat. Gradually add stock, evaporated milk and reserved tomato liquid. Stir until well blended. Add tuna and tomatoes. Heat to boiling point; stir constantly. Remove pan from heat. Slowly stir in cheese. Sprinkle with chopped parsley and serve.

Resume's—good, bad, indifferent

A great deal of concern has been expressed by employers regarding resume's submitted to them by job seekers. They are often too long, too wordy and poorly structured, often venturing far from the true meaning and purpose of the resume.

Such poorly written resume's stand a good chance of never being thoroughly read, and, at worst, might give a negative impression of you. Some have even ended up in the prospective employers' nearest waste basket. As an assurance against that happening to you, here are some pointers.

Resume' being a foreign word (French in origin), it means "a summing up, a condensed statement, an abridgement or summary." It would be a good idea for every job seeker to keep this definition in mind when writing an employment and education resume'.

Cute titles make poor impressions, so don't bother giving it one. Don't write an autobiography. Limit it to no more than three pages in outline form. Make it clear, concise and legible, remembering that typographical errors and bad spelling distract, so take care.

Don't bother bounding it in a special cover, using fancy paper, or mailing it in an over size envelope. Doing so is not going to especially help you and could be a nuisance to the reader when you consider that yours will be one among many being read.

Use plain legal size paper, keeping it simple, and mail in a regular business size envelope. Do not include such information as references, family or health history, personal likes and dislikes, club, fraternal or community affiliations, hobbies or special interests. All of these things will be required on your application and/or interview.

In clear outline form, start your resume' with your name, address, telephone number, birth date, marital status, height and weight. Give the names and dates of schools attended, plus major subjects, diplomas and/or degrees received, honors and military history (if any). List in order, starting with the present, your employment history, including names of companies, the exact dates you worked for them, and a very brief description of your responsibilities and duties.

Quote a salary range you will consider working for, thus the prospective employer will not waste time in offering you a salary far beneath your consideration. Make an honest, straight forward statement regarding your reasons for seeking another job. Don't hesitate to do so. Remember, there are plenty of understandable and acceptable reasons for job changing. If you have some positive preferences and/or limitations, please state them. They'll be discovered soon enough and you might as well start out on the right foot.

Writing a resume' is a real challenge, but a worthy one offering positive benefits. Most job seekers are surprised when they view the summary of their experiences, as reflected in a resume'. If done well, it is an excellent tool in the hands of a prospective employer. It enables them to make a fairly accurate estimate of whatever talents or abilities you may have to offer their particular establishment.

P.S. Have lots of copies made; you're going to need them.

Your questions, comments pro and/or con are welcomed. Direct them to: Voc-Ed Counselor, Mary Rigg NHB Center, 1917 W. Morris, Indianapolis 46221.

IUPUI offering 'how to study in college' classes

Sixteen sections of the IUPUI 'How to Study in College' summer series will be offered at 38th Street and in six other Central Indiana locations this summer.

The non-credit course is given in both daytime and evening week-long sessions starting with a June 11 to 15 offering. The course is for high school graduates who will be attending any college or university in the fall. A special adult sessions is scheduled Aug. 13-17 for adults returning to school or beginning college work for the first time.

Purpose of the course is to improve study habits and help the high school graduate make effective adjustments to college life.

Registrations are now being accepted for classes at 38th Street Campus as well as in Franklin, New Castle, Anderson, Columbus, Richmond, and Shelbyville. Each class meets two hours daily for one week during the summer.

Course content covers the vocabulary of college, the art of listening taking lecture notes, the college catalog, motivation for study, basic plan for textbook reading, scheduling study time, using the college library and preparing for examinations. Experienced IUPUI faculty will teach various sections.

Fee for the course is $22 in Indianapolis and $20 in other Central Indiana locations. The Indianapolis fee also includes a parking permit. Registrations are accepted in the order received for the several classes. Further information and enrollment forms may be obtained from high school counselors or the Continuing Education Office 1201 East 39th Street, Indianapolis.

Panel examines barriers in minority higher education

A national panel of minority educators -- Black, Chicano, Puerto Rican, Native American and Oriental -- has just issued a new study of the financial barriers to higher education for minority and low-income youth, and recommended an extensive program of Federal grants, loans, and special services that goes far beyond existing programs.

Their report, "Toward Equal Opportunity For Higher Education," estimates the cost of its proposals to be $2.4 billion for grants and $550 million for a plan of educational vouchers for students to purchase special services they might need in college.

In a foreword, Arland F. Christ-Janer, President of the College Board, which published the report, says that the proposed program "would provide the dollars necessary not only to fulfill the expectations of the poor for higher education, but also to match the promise of this society of equal opportunity for all its citizens." He notes that while the panel's proposed grant program may appear similar to the 1972 Educational Amendments Basic Educational Opportunity Grants, the panel proposals would be far-reaching in their impact.

In a background section, the panel states that "without dramatically increased college enrollment and completion rates, this is little prospect that minority groups will make significant gains toward equity, either in terms of income level or participation in the professional, technical and managerial segments of society."

The panel says their recommendations were based on a new and broader definition of access to postsecondary education and that they seek not only greater equity in the rates and patterns of enrollment for poor and minority students, but also equity in the distribution of students among types of institutions.

Created in 1970 by the College Scholarship Service of the College Board, the panel was under the direction of Annabell Fong of the University of Hawaii, and conducted a number of research studies in the course of developing its recommendations, utilizing consultants--David Mundel of Harvard, and Robert Hartman, Alice Rivlin and June O'Neill of the Brookings Institutions.

The three major components of the panel recommendations are: GRANTS... a federal program that would entitle eligible students as a matter of right to direct grants. These would be provided directly to students wherever they live or attend college and would be available to all undergraduate students whose adjusted family income is below the median ($9,622 in 1971).

Maximum grant per student would be $2,000, with no restrictions on where it could be used (public or private institutions).

Size of individual grants would be scaled according to adjusted family income.

Availability of grants would be known as early as possible in the high school years to aid in early counseling and decision making.

Estimated cost: $2.4 billion. LOANS... A new federal program of long-term loans open to all students regardless of their economic circumstances. Borrowers would determine the size, amount and terms of the loan; a new federal unit should be established to administer loans but government subsidy should be limited to necessary costs on insuring loans against default. There should be no maximum level of borrowing, and loans should be repayable over the entire working lifetime of the student.

SUPPLEMENTARY SERVICES... Provision of regular payments (vouchers) of $35 per month to students who are aided under the grant program. These vouchers would be used to purchase compensatory and supplementary services. Estimated cost about $553 million.

Who's who in the community

by HENRY HEDGEPAH

Mrs. Anna Green is an underwriter for Occidental Life Insurance Company, but takes time out from her busy schedule to enjoy music and traveling as her hobbies.

A graduate of Shortridge High School, she has been with the Occidental company for two years. She eagerly participates in Operation Breadbasket.

When asked to comment on the insurance company business, she made the following statement:

"Insurance is a rewarding business which calls for a lot of hard work and study. The demand for black men and women with potentials is great."

Occidental Life specializes in life, health and accident coverage. There is a plan for every need. The home office is located in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Green who also enjoys modeling as a pastime, lists the following elements as being most important in life: religion, family and home life. She also states that individuals should strive together for the same common goal.

Thank you, Mrs. Green, for being this week's guest personality.

Movies without movie lights.
The Kodak XL movie camera lets you take movies you couldn't take before.

Now ordinary room lights are all you need.

Would movie lights be out of place? Now you don't need them.

Now you can take all kinds of movies—without movie lights. All you need is a Kodak XL movie camera and high-speed Kodak Ektachrome 160 movie film—the film that's four times faster than Kodachrome II movie film.

Kodak XL movie cameras have a specially designed lens, shutter, exposure control and viewfinder that let up to six times more light reach the film than cameras without these features. From less than $120 at your photo dealer's.
